WILSON LEANS TOWARDS CRANE

CHICAGO FINANCIER MAY BE TREASURER OF CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

SUPPORTED LA FOLLETTE

Since He Was Recalled as Minister to China He Has Been Favorable to Mr. Wilson.

By The Associated Press.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 4.—Charles R. Crane, Chicago, wealthy manufacturer and supporter of Sen. La Follette in his campaign for the republican presidential nomination, may be treasurer of the democratic national campaign committee, Governor Woodrow Wilson had the name of Mr. Crane under consideration today. The only announcement the governor would make was that a treasurer had been agreed upon by himself and National Chairman McCombs, but that the name would be withheld until it could be determined whether the man selected would accept.

Mr. Crane, who was appointed by President Taft in July, 1909, as minister to China, but who was recalled in October of the same year just as he was leaving for the Orient, is known to have leaned favorably toward the candidacy of Governor Wilson, having so expressed himself on a recent visit to Seagirt in company with President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin.

The announcement that Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, secretary of the national committee, would be in charge of the Wilson headquarters at Chicago, acting there also as assistant treasurer, added some strength to the probability that Mr. Crane would be selected as national committee treasurer because of the friendship between Messrs. Davies and Crane.

It is known that many of the members of the national committee have been desirous of having a man outside of New York City appointed and the name of Mr. Crane has been within the last week set before National Chairman McCombs, who placed it before Governor Wilson. Herman Rieder, who now holds the office of treasurer, it was first thought, would retain the office, but he declined, announcing, however, his firm support for Governor Wilson.

It is understood that Mr. Crane is at Woodshole, Mass.

Wilson Didn't Seek Out Politicians.

Governor Wilson returned to Seagirt tonight, after a 24-hour visit to New York, the first since his nomination, but of the score or more political leaders in New York, none saw him. In fact, Governor Wilson talked politics with National Chairman McCombs just four hours and remained in the reading room of the University Club until late in the afternoon.

Takes Trolley Ride and Stroll.

Strolling away from the club, he rode on a trolley car to the home of an artist friend, where he visited for a few minutes. Unnoticed and unrecognized, he turned his street car ride to 123rd street and walked briskly to the McAdoo tunnel.

The governor was met on the train by Joseph E. Daniels, national committee man of North Carolina, who rode for a few miles talking earnestly with the nominee.

Governor is Mum.

Governor Wilson had nothing to say tonight on politics. He is preparing for the notification ceremonies Wednesday when he expects to meet Governor Marshall, the vice-presidential candidate, Judge Alton B. Parker and many other prominent democrats.

It is practically certain that Marshall will take the stump in Maine, where the election for governor is held early in September. It has not yet been decided, however, whether Governor Wilson will speak in Maine. Some of Governor Wilson's friends do not wish him to enter Maine because they believe the national ticket ought to be kept apart from the local issues of prohibition.

The national campaign committee, however, is giving attention to New England states, particularly Maine, and important announcements in this connection are expected soon.

Thomas J. Pense, of Raleigh, N. C., has been designated as assistant to National Chairman McCombs. Pense was for a long time Washington correspondent for the Raleigh News and Observer, owned by Joseph E. Daniels, senior member of the national committee and chairman of the publicity committee.

Four years ago Mr. Pense directed the publicity for the National Democratic Committee and this year had charge of the publicity in Washington of the Wilson campaign for the nomination. Frank B. Lord, another Washington newspaper man, will be right hand man to Chairman Daniels, taking charge of the literary bureau in New York.

STOLEN ART GOODS FOUND

RICH HOARD OF SOCIETY ROBBER IS INVADIED BY CHICAGO POLICE.

THIEF EDUCATED FOOL

He is Graduate in Electrical Engineering, But Poisoned Mind With Yellow Novels.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—After 24 hours work the police today captured an inventory of the art treasures, bric-a-brac, jewelry, silverplate, and other articles stolen by Jacob F. Guthrie, alleged society burglar and forger now under arrest, and announced that the goods recovered are estimated to be worth $150,000.

Last night after a partial examination of the barn and room in a storage warehouse which Guthrie used to hide a portion of the articles stolen, the police estimated the value at $150,000. This was nearly doubled when half a dozen additional trunks and chests filled with jewelry, and bric-a-brac were discovered. Much of the stolen property was found in Guthrie's home, where he lived with his mother, sister and brother, who is a Chicago policeman.

Further investigation of the young man's history revealed that after graduating in a course of electrical engineering at a Chicago technical institute, he obtained employment with an electric company. Later he was employed in the municipal laboratory. Subsequently he was appointed an instructor in electrical engineering at one of the public high schools.

Guthrie is 25 years old. He is poorly dressed, although when arrested he had more than $15,000 deposited in his credit in Chicago banks.

Dr. Leslie W. Schwab, who has been physician for the Guthries for a number of years, talked with the prisoner for an hour today and later conferred with Captain Halpin of the detective bureau. Dr. Schwab said:

"Guthrie is an educated fool in my opinion. I have known him since childhood. He always has been a bookworm. He read detective and problem novels incessantly. The effect of this has been to create a peculiar mental condition. He has all the characteristics of a confirmed kleptomaniac. I believe he had periods when he is mentally irresponsible. It is my intention to have an alienist examine him in a few days."

The prisoner slept soundly on a wooden bench in his cell last night and was awake early. He ate a hearty breakfast and talked freely with visitors about his adventures.

When informed of the task which confronted the police in making an inventory of the stolen articles, he laughingly offered to assist them. Thousands of dollars worth of the stolen articles were identified during the day by society women who called at Central station.

Among the lost articles unearthed were a large number of costly imported fans inlaid with pearl. The handles were ivory, ornamented with gold. These fans are estimated to be worth thousands of dollars. Among the personal effects of Guthrie was found a small notebook which indicates he was a steady patron of burlesque shows. Guthrie declares that he has never sold one article that he stole and that he obtained all the money he needed by forgery. He says he never used intoxicants or tobacco. He is said to have lost large sums speculating in mining stocks.

In one of the trunks was found the bank book of Mrs. Otto Young, one of Chicago's wealthy women. The balance in the bank was $191,000, but it is not known whether Guthrie drew any checks in her name.

Besides the money Guthrie is said to have on deposit in Chicago banks, he is said to own four 50 shares of United States Steel common stock.

LONDON PAPER COMMENTS ON LODGE RESOLUTION

By The Associated Press.

London, Aug. 4.—In an editorial on the Lodge resolution in the United States senate, the Times says:

"The latest phase of Monroeism is not unexpected and English statesmen never have been critical as to the evolution of the Monroe doctrine, which is regarded here as substantially expressing the right of a state to take all steps requisite for its safety—a right which we recognize in the belief that similar freedom could not be denied England as regards the perils to which she is exposed."

CRUSH OROZCO WITHIN WEEK

GOVERNMENT THINKS REBEL LEADER WILL SOON BEG FOR MERCY.

STUBBORN GUERRILLA WAR

Expulsion of Insurrectos from Interior Strongholds Doesn't Mean Defeat for Them.

By The Associated Press.

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—Encouraged by General Sangre's successes near the eastern boundary of Sonora, and relying upon General Huerta to wage an energetic campaign against the rebels with his army that drove them back from Bachimba, government officials believe that by the end of the week General Pascual Orozco will be seeking hiding places or begging for amnesty. Unofficial, as well as official, dispatches received here state that many of Orozco's army already are tiring of fighting without receiving their pay, and that desertions are increasing.

300 Rebels Surrender.

Juan Ortiz, leader of 300 rebels, is reported by General Rabago at Madera to have surrendered with all his men after his request for amnesty had been granted.

Army Sent to Mormon Colonies.

The plan of campaign was altered slightly by the action of the rebels in the Mormon colonies. To place an army in that district as soon as possible, a force was sent from Encinillas, on the line of the Central Railroad between Chihuahua and Juarez, but the work of repairing that road has not been abandoned and a considerable force of soldiers yet remains in that territory. The bulk of Huerta's army, however, is in and near Madera, from where it will be pushed northward along the line of the northwestern towards Juarez and westward into Sonora in pursuit of the retreating insurgents. It is regarded as probable that the forces will be in Juarez within a few days, although there is no intention of bringing about international complications by assaulting the border towns.

Looks Like Persistent Guerrilla War.

Reports from various parts of the interior do not indicate that the expulsion of the revolutionists from their retreats in the interior will mark the end of disorders in Mexico. Zapata appears to be almost as vigorous as ever in his campaign in the south and news reached the capital today of increased activity of the rebels in the states of Durango and Guanajuato, while discontented bands in Oaxaca are giving the authorities trouble in that section. There is little doubt that Zapata now is subordinate to Orozco and the rebels maintaining in the central states proclaim their loyalty to the northern chief, whose announced policy is that of guerrilla warfare.

AMERICAN REFUGEES SKIRMISH WITH REBELS

By The Associated Press.

El Paso, Aug. 4.—Movements of the federal and rebel armies in the district south of the border at this point together with the yet uncompleted detention of the American colonists in the trouble zone occupies the interest of officers of the United States troops engaged in skirmishing the border at this point.

Americans Have Skirmish.

A party of 30 men from Colonel Diaz to the west of the Casas Grandes district arrived today at Hachita, N. M., according to advices received at Fort Bliss, and the colonists from the Juarez and Bulian colonies are expected to reach the border tomorrow. The Americans from the latter settlement are reported to have been unsuccessful in reaching the federal army engaged in a series of skirmishes with the rebels about Casas Grandes and have attempted a hard overland trip.

Troops Nearing Border.

A report has reached the United States secret men that General Salazar with one thousand rebels has evacuated Casas Grandes with the two groups of federals greatly outnumbering the rebels in pursuit.

According to this information, Salazar, who is headed for the border, moved due north with the intention of reaching Palomas, opposite Columbus, N. M., and a few miles west of El Paso. This will bring him in close touch with the rebel leader Orozco who remains in Juarez with about 500 men and together they proceed along the border into Sonora.

This move, American officers here believe, is made with a view to securing ammunition and it is probable that the United States border patrol will be increased.

That the rebels are in great need of ammunition is evidenced by the recent instances of border running.

WOUNDED INSURRECTOS BROUGHT TO EL PASO

By The Associated Press.

Juarez, Aug. 4.—A train bearing eight wounded rebel soldiers arrived here today, bringing verification of the battle in progress yesterday at Corralitos, a few miles north of Casas Grandes. A small group of rebels from the Casas Grandes garrison

FINANCIERS OF THE SOUTH ARE SELECTED

DIRECTORS OF SEABOARD AIR LINE ANNOUNCED BY S. DAVIES WARFIELD.

By The Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 4.—S. Davies Warfield, president of the Continental Trust Company, of Baltimore, and who recently purchased for himself and other southern associates a controlling interest in the Seaboard Air Line Railway, has been sounding out southern financial interests, it was said today, for the purpose of selecting a board of directors, to be elected at the next stockholders' meeting. Mr. Warfield was in Atlanta yesterday conferring with a half dozen or more bankers and returned to Baltimore last night.

Among those announced as probable members of the new directorate are Robert F. Maddox, vice-president of the American National Bank, and Mills E. Lane, president of the Citizens' and Southern Bank, Savannah; A. H. Woodward, vice-president of the Woodward Iron Company, Birmingham; E. W. Lane, president of the Atlantic National Bank, Jacksonville; and George M. Watts, of Durham, N. C., at present a member of the board and who undoubtedly will be retained.

In a statement relative to the proposed reorganization of the Seaboard, Mr. Warfield declared that the Seaboard line was essentially a southern road, and that its independence as a trunk line would be maintained. The next annual meeting will be in the early fall.

CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR MOST LIKELY CHOICE

Roosevelt Will Not Accept Nomination Unless His Own Platform is Adopted, Which May Be Classed as Anarchic or Socialistic

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The national progressive party will be formally launched tomorrow at noon in the Coliseum, where a little more than a month ago President William Howard Taft was renominated for the presidency on the republican ticket, over the protests of many of those now leading the third party movement.

Bull Moose Hangs Over Door.

The big convention hall, ready for the new party, shows but few changes in the arrangements provided for the republican national convention. Over the main entrance doors, however, has been hung the head of a magnificent specimen of a bull moose, in token of the nickname attached to the new party.

Delegates Close to 1200.

Between 1100 and 1200 delegates are expected to gather in the Coliseum tomorrow to participate in the convention, which already has attained a place in the history of American politics.

Ratify Nomination Wednesday.

On Wednesday, when all of the necessary preliminaries of a national convention have been disposed of, they will ratify the nomination of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for president. Colonel Roosevelt was tentatively placed in nomination at a gathering here last night of the republican convention, when his followers assembled in Orchestra hall and laid the foundation upon which tomorrow's convention is built.

Interest Centers in Running Mate.

Who will be the nominee for vice president has not yet been determined. Few of the leaders in the city will discuss the subject of a running mate for the colonel, declaring that it is a matter to be threshed out in the convention and decided as the delegates deem best for the interest of the party. On every hand there is the apparent purpose of the convention leaders to defer announcements of any character whatever until the convention shall have assembled and the delegates have been consulted. So far only the temporary officers of the convention have been given out. It was quite generally reported tonight, however, that Col. John M. Parker of New Orleans, a democrat, would be the permanent chairman. For a time it appeared to be the plan to retain former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, the temporary chairman, for the permanent presiding officer, but it was said tonight, Mr. Beveridge had expressed a desire that this be not done.

Many of the leaders in the new party movement, anxious to avoid any semblance of alliance with the old parties, are urging that the democrats who have joined the movement, particularly from the south, should have special recognition in the convention. There has been much talk of nominating a southern democrat for second place on the ticket, but this plan did not gain much headway today.

Gov. Johnson Possible Candidate.

Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California still is talked of as the most likely candidate for vice president, and while he is not a candidate for the office, it is said he will accept the nomination if the delegates desire it. Governor Johnson is regarded as one of the leaders announced to attract as many democrats to the new party standard as possible.

The proposed selection of Colonel Parker of New Orleans as permanent chairman led to talk tonight that the national ticket might be made up of former republicans. Much depends, however, upon the action of Colonel Roosevelt himself, who tonight is speeding toward Chicago on an 18-hour train from New York, and who will arrive tomorrow morning in the midst of the enthusiasm attending the new party representatives. In all of his recent public utterances, Colonel Roosevelt has urged the welcoming into the new party of former republicans and democrats on an exactly equal footing.

Arrangements About Perfected.

In anticipation of the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt early tomorrow morning, the convention plans practically were at a standstill today. It was a clear, cool day that called to the out-of-doors and many of the delegates took advantage of the lull for an outing. Those of the temporary officers who make their headquarters in Washington went out to the baseball game between Washington and the Chicago White Sox and saw a happy augury for the new party in the impressive victory of the Washington team over the home aggregation.

Disposing of Contests.

A subcommittee of the provisional national committee of the new party met tonight to dispose of some contests in the Ohio delegation, which were not regarded as especially important. Tomorrow morning the national committee will meet to finally dispose of the contestants of Mississippi and Florida, where the contestants are negroes. The committee already has heard practically all of the evidence in those cases, and it is believed will follow the principle laid down in the Alabama cases, where the contests of the negroes were declared without merit.

Senator Dixon of Montana, who, as chairman of the provisional national committee of the party, will call the convention to order tomorrow and introduce Mr. Beveridge as the temporary presiding officer, was at headquarters only a part of today. The arrangements for the opening session had progressed so far that there was little to do but wait for the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt and the fall of the gavel. It is not known tonight whether Colonel Roosevelt will attend the opening session of the convention, in which he is such an important factor. It was intimated that he might remain away from the Coliseum until Tuesday afternoon, when in response to an invitation to be extended by the convention, he will make the address outlining his views and those of the people who propose to follow in his footsteps. Colonel Roosevelt is not himself a delegate.

No formal plans had been made for the welcoming of Colonel Roosevelt to the city tomorrow, but the California and other delegations expressed a purpose of being at the railway station with brass bands and banners to make the arrival of their chief as impressive, or even more so, than when he came to Chicago during the republican convention and was greeted by thousands of enthusiasts.

Women at Convention.

Several state delegations came in today, but many have deferred their arrival until tomorrow. The city then is expected to take on an air of convention gaiety, added to by the presence of Colonel Roosevelt.

MORE STUDENTS FOR NEXT YEAR

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD MAKING
PLANS TO ACCOMMODATE SIX THOUSAND PUPILS.

BUILDINGS ARE ENLARGED

Teaching Corps Selected With Exception of Head for Domestic Science.

That the student enrollment in the Waco public schools for the scholastic year of 1912-13 will exceed that of the previous school year by more than 200 is the opinion of Prof. J. C. Lattimore, superintendent of the city's public schools. Professor Lattimore bases his opinion upon the latest census report of the city of Waco. This report gives an increase of more than 500 in Waco's population since the student enrollment of the last school year. This increase, together with the advent of additional families which will be brought here by the location of the Katy shops in Waco, will easily, it is stated, add 200 additional students to the enrollment in the public schools. The total enrollment for the past year was 5760.

Preparation to care for the increase in attendance is being made. An addition of two rooms, with halls, is being made to Bell's Hill school, one of the largest in the city. The school board is spending approximately $7200 on this work. An addition to the East Waco colored school building also is being made at an expenditure of $2,500. Besides these additions, the school board is having contractors and carpenters do general repair work on each of the school buildings throughout the city.

School Opens Sept. 16.

The opening of the public schools is not far off--a little less than 45 days. The schools open on Sept. 16. The superintendent, his various assistants and the school board are busy preparing for the opening. A selection of all teachers to serve during the year has been made excepting that of a teacher of domestic science. So far the board has been unable to secure anyone to fill this position. Superintendent Lattimore states that the board is trying to fill this vacancy, and expects to do so before school opens. The position is one that will be made both prominent and important during the coming year, and the aim is to secure the best instructor for the place that can be obtained. A meeting of the committee having this selection in charge may be called at any time, when a decision will be reached. The board has its regular meeting Aug. 12.

At a recent meeting the board let the contract for 400 tons of coal to be used as fuel during the coming winter. The coal already has been delivered.

With the advent of the new school year, the grounds surrounding the various buildings will be in better condition and have a more beautiful appearance than ever before. Especial care has been taken with the high school grounds, where Bermuda grass has been set out and the grounds parked.

"We are working to the end that the coming year may be most successful in the history of Waco's public schools," said Professor Lattimore yesterday. "We mean to make it the most successful in work accomplished, to have a larger attendance than at any previous year, and to have better and more spacious rooms wherein to house the students."

NATIONAL SUGAR REFINING STOCK ORDERED CANCELED

By The Associated Press.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 3.--A final decree was issued today in chancery, cancelling 99,000 shares of common stock of the National Sugar Refining company, which Norman B. Tooker and other stockholders charged had been issued, without any consideration, in the name of James H. Post for Henry O. Havemeyer. The court decided this stock had been improperly issued.

TO GET A CHARTER TO START BUSINESS

LUMBERMEN'S SECURITY &
TRUST COMPANY HAS ELECTED
ITS FIRST DIRECTORS.

Ben Kendall, who is one of the directors of the Lumbermen's Security and Trust company, stated yesterday that the incorporation papers for the first $100,000 of the proposed half million dollar capital of that organization had been paid in and that the incorporation papers had been sent in to the secretary of state at Austin, and he expected to receive the charter in a few days.

As soon as this charter is received the Lumbermen's Security and Trust company will be prepared to enter the trust company field in Waco, and will add another strong financial institution to those already organized in this city.

This trust company is being organized under the Texas state banking and trust company laws and will be under the supervision of the state banking and insurance department, the same as all Texas state banking institutions, which is a guarantee of a conservative policy and insures the maximum protection to its stockholders and patrons.

The Lumbermen's Security and Trust company was the first trust company proposed for the city of Waco, it having been organized without any promotion expense or costs one year ago, and the organization was perfected Oct. 1, 1911, with about 250 local stockholders, besides a number of subscribers located throughout Texas and Oklahoma, and embraces in its personnel a large number of the leading business men of this city and the states mentioned.

The plan of organization of this company provided for the subscription for stock to be paid in at the rate of 2 per cent on the full $500,000 capital subscribed, each month, for a term of 50 months, thus increasing the operating capital at the rate of $10,000 per month, and the increase of the corporate capital of $100,000 every ten months until the full $500,000 had been paid in. The first $100,000 having been fully paid in, the company has applied for its charter for $100,000, with about $5000 surplus, and it is proposed to amend the charter and increase the capital every ten months hereafter until the half million dollars is reached. By the time this plan has been carried out the Lumbermen's Security and Trust company will be one of the largest and strongest financial institutions in the state. The full amount of the ultimate half million dollar capital has been subscribed, which guarantees the continued growth of the institution, and none of the stock is for sale.

At a meeting of the organization trustees, held a few days ago, the following directors were named for the first year: W. W. Cameron, E. R. Bolton, W. J. Neale, E. W. Marshall, Albert T. Clifton, H. M. Miner, C. M. Hubby, E. Rotan, W. W. Pryor, R. J. Tolson, James W. Bass, S. M. Mc-

Asham, W. T. Abernathy, W. A. Webb and Ben C. Kent.

From the above it will be seen that this is one of the strongest directorates that could be named, and is a guarantee that the Lumbermen's Security and Trust company will take rank with the leading financial institutions of the city.

CARD OF THANKS FROM S. S. FLEMING

To My Countrymen:

You have nominated me to carry the democratic flag for sheriff of our country. You could not have chosen any man who would have had a higher sense of appreciation than I myself, and I wish from the bottom of my heart to thank every one who stood so loyally by me in the hard struggle for the nomination. No one can blame me for loving my friends. No friend will ask more than that justice be done to all men, the high, the low, the rich, the poor, shall when I am duly elected receive a bounteous justice at my hands. No man who supported me shall ever regret casting his vote in my behalf. Those who opposed me shall have that same care and protection as my friends. I appreciate fully the fact that I have been duly nominated the servant of all the people, and that they are the law. I shall serve them with pleasure and forever feel thankful for their support.

Respectfully yours,
S. S. FLEMING.

KITTEN A SUICIDE, THE FOREMAN SAYS

BUT IT TAKES TIME TO GET DOWN TO THE FACTS IN THE CASE.

One of the two black kittens in the News composing room has disappeared.

The foreman says it committed suicide. If such was a fact, the cub reporter decided it was a good story. He asked the foreman how he knew it and the foreman replied that the chief proofreader had told him of it.

The chief proofreader in turn referred the reporter to the copy cutter, who said the chief "make-up" knew all about it.

The cub reporter got more interested and dashed for the "make-up." The latter had heard all about it and referred the reporter to the "head letter" man. Right on the trail the reporter kept and found that the "head letter" man had gotten the story from the man on the correcting bank, who had overheard the "devil" tell it to the proof boy.

Running him to earth at last, the reporter interviewed the "devil."

"Sure," the latter said. "The kitten, it makes a leap over the window to the next roof and out of nothings--maybe it has fits--it jumped right down a snake pipe. Didn't I see it? Sure!"

Therefore, the foreman is exonerated.

WILSON LEANS TOWARDS CRANE

CHICAGO FINANCIER MAY BE TREASURER OF CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

SUPPORTED LA FOLLETTE

Since He Was Recalled as Minister to China He Has Been Favorable to Mr. Wilson.

By The Associated Press.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 4.—Charles R. Crane of Chicago, wealthy manufacturer and supporter of Sen. La Follette in his campaign for the republican presidential nomination, may be treasurer of the democratic national campaign committee, Governor Woodrow Wilson had the name of Mr. Crane under consideration today. The only announcement the governor would make was that a treasurer had been agreed upon by himself and National Chairman McCombs but that the name would be withheld until it could be determined whether the man selected would accept.

Mr. Crane, who was appointed by President Taft in July, 1909, as minister to China, but who was recalled in October of the same year just as he was leaving for the Orient, is known to have leaned favorably toward the candidacy of Governor Wilson, having so expressed himself on a recent visit to Seagirt in company with President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin.

The announcement that Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, secretary of the national committee, would be in charge of the Wilson headquarters at Chicago, acting there also as assistant treasurer, added some strength to the probability that Mr. Crane would be selected as national committee treasurer because of the friendship between Messrs. Davies and Crane.

It is known that many of the members of the national committee have been desirous of having a man outside of New York City appointed and the name of Mr. Crane has been within the last week set before National Chairman McCombs, who placed it before Governor Wilson. Herman Ridler, who now holds the office of treasurer, it was first thought, would retain the office, but he declined, announcing, however, his firm support for Governor Wilson.

It is understood that Mr. Crane is at Woodstock, Mass.

Wilson Didn't Seek Out Politicians. Governor Wilson returned to Seagirt tonight, after a 24-hour visit to New York, the first since his nomination, but of the score or more political leaders in New York, none saw him. In fact, Governor Wilson talked politics with National Chairman McCombs just four hours and remained in the reading room of the University Club until late in the afternoon.

Takes Trolley Ride and Stroll. Strolling away from the club, he rode on a trolley car to the home of an artist friend, where he visited for a few minutes. Unnoticed and unrecognized, he turned his street car ride to 32nd street and walked briskly to the McAdoo tunnel.

The governor was met on the train by Joseph E. Daniels, national committee man of North Carolina, who rode for a few miles talking earnestly with the nominee.

Governor is Mum.

Governor Wilson had nothing to say tonight on politics. He is preparing for the notification ceremonies Wednesday when he expects to meet Governor Marshall, the vice-presidential candidate, Judge Alton B. Parker and many other prominent democrats.

It is practically certain that Marshall will take the stump in Maine, where the election for governor is held early in September. It has not yet been decided, however, whether Governor Wilson will speak in Maine. Some of Governor Wilson's friends do not wish him to enter Maine because they believe the national ticket ought to be kept apart from the local issues of prohibition. The national campaign committee, however, is giving attention to New England states, particularly Maine, and important announcements in this connection are expected soon.

Thomas J. Pence, of Raleigh, N. C., has been designated as assistant to National Chairman McCombs. Pence was for a long time Washington correspondent for the Raleigh News and Observer, owned by Joseph E. Daniels, senior member of the national committee and chairman of the publicity committee.

Four years ago Mr. Pence directed the publicity for the National Democratic Committee and this year had charge of the publicity in Washington of the Wilson campaign for the nomination. Frank B. Lord, another Washington newspaper man, will be right hand man to Chairman Daniels, taking charge of the literary bureau in New York.

STOLEN ART GOODS FOUND

RICH BOARD OF SOCIETY ROBBER IS INVADDED BY CHICAGO POLICE.

THIEF EDUCATED FOOL

He Is Graduate in Electrical Engineering, But Poisoned Mind With Yellow Novels.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—After 24 hours' work the police today captured an inventory of the art treasures, bric-a-brac, jewelry, silverplate, and other articles stolen by Jacob F. Guthrie, alleged society burglar and forger now under arrest, and announced that the goods recovered are estimated to be worth $250,000.

Last night after a partial examination of the barn and room in a storage warehouse which Guthrie used to hide a portion of the articles stolen, the police estimated the value at $150,000. This was nearly doubled when half a dozen additional trunks and chests filled with jewelry, and bric-a-brac were discovered. Much of the stolen property was found in Guthrie's home, where he lived with his mother, sister and brother, who is a Chicago policeman.

Further investigation of the young man's history revealed that after graduating in a course of electrical engineering at a Chicago technical institute, he obtained employment with an electric company. Later he was employed in the municipal laboratory. Subsequently he was appointed an instructor in electrical engineering at one of the public high schools.

Guthrie is 25 years old. He is poorly dressed, although when arrested he had more than $1,000 deposited in his credit in Chicago banks.

Dr. Leslie W. Schwab, who has been physician for the Guthries for a number of years, talked with the prisoner for an hour today and later conferred with Captain Halpin of the detective bureau. Dr. Schwab said: "Guthrie is an educated fool in my opinion. I have known him since childhood. He always has been a bookworm. He read detective and problem novels incessantly. The effect of this has been to create a peculiar mental condition. He has all the characteristics of a confirmed kleptomaniac. I believe he had periods when he is mentally irresponsible. It is my intention to have an alienist examine him in a few days."

The prisoner slept soundly on a wooden bench in his cell last night and was awake early. He ate a hearty breakfast and talked freely with visitors about his adventures.

When informed of the task which confronted the police in making an inventory of the stolen articles, he laughingly offered to assist them.

"Thousands of dollars worth of the stolen articles were identified during the day by society women who called at Central station."

Among the lost articles unearthed were a large number of costly imported fans inlaid with pearl. The handles were ivory, ornamented with gold. These fans are estimated to be worth thousands of dollars. Among the personal effects of Guthrie was found a small notebook which indicates he was a steady patron of burlesque shows. Guthrie declares that he has never sold one article that he stole and that he obtained all the money he needed by forgery. He says he never used intoxicants or tobacco. He is said to have lost large sums speculating in mining stocks.

In one of the trunks was found the bank book of Mrs. Otto Young, one of Chicago's wealthy women. The balance in the bank was $181,000, but it is not known whether Guthrie drew any checks in her name.

Besides the money Guthrie is said to have on deposit in Chicago banks, he is said to own four 50 shares of United States Steel common stock.

LONDON PAPER COMMENTS ON LODGE RESOLUTION

By The Associated Press.

London, Aug. 4.—In an editorial on the Lodge resolution in the United States senate, the Times says:

"The latest phase of Monroeism is not unexpected and English statesmen never have been critical as to the evolution of the Monroe doctrine, which is regarded here as substantially expressing the right of a state to take all steps requisite for its safety—a right which we recognize in the belief that similar freedom could not be denied England as regards the perils to which she is exposed."

CRUSH OROZCO WITHIN WEEK

GOVERNMENT THINKS REBEL LEADER WILL SOON BEG FOR MERCY.

STUBBORN GUERRILLA WAR

Expulsion of Insurrectos from Interior Strongholds Doesn't Mean Defeat for Them.

By The Associated Press.

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—Encouraged by General Sangre's successes near the eastern boundary of Sonora, and relying upon General Huerta to wage an energetic campaign against the rebels with his army that drove them back from Bachimba, government officials believe that by the end of the week General Pascual Orozco will be seeking hiding places or begging for amnesty. Unofficial, as well as official, dispatches received here state that many of Orozco's army already are tiring of fighting without receiving their pay, and that desertions are increasing.

300 Rebels Surrender.

Juan Ortiz, leader of 300 rebels, is reported by General Rabago at Madera to have surrendered with all his men after his request for amnesty had been granted.

Army Sent to Mormon Colonies.

The plan of campaign was altered slightly by the action of the rebels in the Mormon colonies. To place an army in that district as soon as possible, a force was sent from Encinillas, on the line of the Central Railroad between Chihuahua and Juarez, but the work of repairing that road has not been abandoned and a considerable force of soldiers yet remains in that territory. The bulk of Huerta's army, however, is in and near Madera, from where it will be pushed northward along the line of the northwestern towards Juarez and westward into Sonora in pursuit of the retreating insurgents. It is regarded as probable that the forces will be in Juarez within a few days, although there is no intention of bringing about international complications by assaulting the border towns.

Looks Like Persistent Guerrilla War.

Reports from various parts of the interior do not indicate that the expulsion of the revolutionists from their retreats in the interior will mark the end of disorders in Mexico. Zapata appears to be almost as vigorous as ever in his campaign in the south and news reached the capital today of increased activity of the rebels in the states of Durango and Guanajuato, while discontented bands in Oaxaca are giving the authorities trouble in that section. There is little doubt that Zapata now is subordinate to Orozco and the rebels marauding in the central states proclaim their loyalty to the northern chief, whose announced policy is that of guerrilla warfare.

AMERICAN REFUGEES SKIRMISH WITH REBELS

By The Associated Press.

El Paso, Aug. 4.—Movements of the federal and rebel armies in the district south of the border at this point together with the yet uncompleted desertion of the American colonists in the trouble zone occupies the interest of officers of the United States troops engaged in patrolling the border at this point.

Americans Have Skirmish.

A party of 30 men from Colonel Diaz to the west of the Casas Grandes district arrived today at Hachita, N. M., according to advices received at Fort Bliss and the colonists from the Juarez and Buhlan colonies are expected to reach the border tomorrow. The Americans are reported to have been unsuccessful in reaching the federal army engaged in a series of skirmishes with the rebels about Casas Grandes and have attempted a hard overland trip.

Troops Nearing Border.

A report has reached the United States secret men that General Salazar with one thousand rebels has evacuated Casas Grandes with the two groups of federalists greatly outnumbering the rebels in pursuit.

According to this information, Salazar, who is headed for the border, moved due north with the intention of reaching Palomas, opposite Columbus, N. M., and a few miles west of El Paso. This will bring him in close touch with the rebel leader Orozco who remains in Juarez with about 500 men and together they proceed along the border into Sonora.

This move, American officers here believe is made with a view to securing ammunition and it is probable that the United States border patrol will be increased.

"That the rebels are in great need of ammunition is evidenced by the recent instances of border running."

FINANCIERS OF THE SOUTH ARE SELECTED

DIRECTORS OF SEABOARD AIR LINE ANNOUNCED BY S. DAVIES WARFIELD.

By The Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 4.—S. Davies Warfield, president of the Continental Trust Company, of Baltimore, and who recently purchased for himself and other southern associates a controlling interest in the Seaboard Air Line Railway, has been sounding out southern financial interests, it was said today, for the purpose of selecting a board of directors, to be elected at the next stockholders' meeting. Mr. Warfield was in Atlanta yesterday conferring with a half dozen or more bankers and returned to Baltimore last night.

Among those announced as probable members of the new directorate are Robert F. Maddox, vice-president of the American National Bank, and Mills E. Lane, president of the Citizens and Southern Bank, Savannah; A. H. Woodward, vice-president of the Woodward Iron Company, Birmingham; E. W. Lane, president of the Atlantic National Bank, Jacksonville; and George M. Watts, of Durham, N. C., at present a member of the board and who undoubtedly will be retained.

In a statement relative to the proposed reorganization of the Seaboard, Mr. Warfield declared that the Seaboard line was essentially a southern road, and that its independence as a trunk line would be maintained. The next annual meeting will be in the early fall.

Roosevelt Will Not Accept Nomination Unless His Own Platform is Adopted, Which May Be Classed as Anarchic or Socialistic

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The national progressive party will be formally launched tomorrow at noon in the Coliseum, where a little more than a month ago President William Howard Taft was renominated for the presidency on the republican ticket, over the protests of many of those now leading the third party movement.

Bull Moose Hangs Over Door.

The big convention hall, ready for the new party, shows but few changes in the arrangements provided for the republican national convention. Over the main entrance doors, however, has been hung the head of a magnificent specimen of a bull moose, in token of the nickname attached to the new party.

Delegates Close to 1200.

Between 1100 and 1200 delegates are expected to gather in the Coliseum tomorrow to participate in the convention, which already has attained a place in the history of American politics.

Ratify Nomination Wednesday.

On Wednesday, when all of the necessary preliminaries of a national convention have been disposed of, they will ratify the nomination of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for president. Colonel Roosevelt was tentatively placed in nomination at a gathering here the last night of the republican convention, when his followers assembled in Orchestra hall and laid the foundation upon which tomorrow's convention is built.

Interest Centers in Running Mate.

Who will be the nominee for vice president has not yet been determined. Few of the leaders in the city will discuss the subject of a running mate for the colonel, declaring that it is a matter to be threshed out in the convention and decided as the delegates deem best for the interest of the party. On every hand there is the apparent purpose of the convention leaders to defer announcements of any character whatever until the convention shall have assembled and the delegates have been consulted. So far only the temporary officers of the convention have been given out. It was quite generally reported tonight, however, that Col. John M. Parker of New Orleans, a democrat, would be the permanent chairman. For a time it appeared to be the plan to retain former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, the temporary chairman, for the permanent presiding officer, but it was said tonight, Mr. Beveridge had expressed a desire that this be not done.

Many of the leaders in the new party movement, anxious to avoid any semblance of alliance with the old parties, are urging that the democrats who have joined the movement, particularly from the south, should have special recognition in the convention. There has been much talk of nominating a southern democrat for second place on the ticket, but this plan did not gain much headway today.

Gov. Johnson Possible Candidate.

Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California still is talked of as the most likely candidate for vice president, and while he is not a candidate for the office, it is said he will accept the nomination if the delegates desire it. Governor Johnson is regarded as one of the leaders announced to attract as many democrats to the new party standard as possible.

The proposed selection of Colonel Parker of New Orleans as permanent chairman led to talk tonight that the national ticket might be made up of former republicans. Much depends, however, upon the action of Colonel Roosevelt himself, who tonight is speeding toward Chicago on an 18-hour train from New York, and who will arrive tomorrow morning in the midst of the enthusiasm attending the new party representatives. In all of his recent public utterances, Colonel Roosevelt has urged the welcoming into the new party of former republicans and democrats on an exactly equal footing.

Arrangements About Perfected.

In anticipation of the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt early tomorrow morning, the convention plans practically were at a standstill today. It was a clear, cool day that called to the out-of-doors and many of the delegates took advantage of the lull for an outing. Those of the temporary officers who make their headquarters in Washington went out to the baseball game between Washington and the Chicago White Sox and saw a happy augury for the new party in the impressive victory of the Washington team over the home aggregation.

Disposing of Contests.

A subcommittee of the provisional national committee of the new party met tonight to dispose of some contests in the Ohio delegation, which were not regarded as especially important. Tomorrow morning the national committee will meet to finally dispose of the contestants of Mississippi and Florida, where the contestants are negroes. The committee already has heard practically all of the evidence in those cases, and it is believed will follow the principle laid down in the Alabama cases, where the contests of the negroes were declared without merit.

Senator Dixon of Montana, who, as chairman of the provisional national committee of the party, will call the convention to order tomorrow and introduce Mr. Beveridge as the temporary presiding officer, was at headquarters only a part of today. The arrangements for the opening session had progressed so far that there was little to do but wait for the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt and the fall of the gavel. It is not known tonight whether Colonel Roosevelt will attend the opening session of the convention, in which he is such an important factor. It was intimated that he might remain away from the Coliseum until Tuesday afternoon, when in response to an invitation to be extended by the convention, he will make the address outlining his views and those of the people who propose to follow in his footsteps. Colonel Roosevelt is not himself a delegate.

No formal plans had been made for the welcoming of Colonel Roosevelt to the city tomorrow, but the California and other delegations expressed a purpose of being at the railway station with brass bands and banners to make the arrival of their chief as impressive, or even more so, than when he came to Chicago during the republican convention and was greeted by thousands of enthusiasts.

Several state delegations came in today, but many have deferred their arrival until tomorrow. The city then is expected to take on an air of convention gaiety, added to by the presence of Colonel Roosevelt.

Women at Convention.

More women delegates are expected to attend the convention than have attended any other national political gathering in the history of the country. Colonel Roosevelt openly has espoused the cause of universal suffrage as between the sexes. The women delegates plan to assemble tomorrow in front of the art institute in Michigan avenue and march to the convention hall with banners and bands. Notices regarding the parade were posted in all of the downtown hotels tonight.

Among the delegations arriving today were those of West Virginia, headed by former Governor Dawson; Montana, the home of National Chairman Dixon, and Idaho and Nebraska.

The West Virginians came in 32 strong, each delegate having one-fourth of a vote. Nearly all of the states are to have delegates in excess of their allotted quota, which ordinarily would be just one-half of the number of delegates allowed by the republican and democratic conventions. The basis of representation in the progressive convention is one vote for each senator and representative from a state. The votes of the delegates are to be split in fractions, ranging from one-half to one-seventh.

South Carolina Only State Not In.

South Carolina, so far, is the only state concerning which no official is participating. A man proclaiming himself as a citizen of that state called at headquarters today and asked how he might become a delegate. He was told it probably is too late to arrange for a regular representation from that state and South Carolina is not expected to have a voice in the convention.

Three Party Ideals.

The official badges issued for the convention, resembling very much the designs of the republican and democratic conventions this year. On the medal attached to the varicolored ribbon of the badge, however, appear the heads of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln as the ideals of the founders of the new party. The tickets of admission to the convention bear etchings of these same three illustrious figures in American history.

Practically all of the state caucuses have been postponed until tomorrow, when nominations will be made for the various standing committees of the convention and for the new national committee to serve in place of the tentative organization which so far has conducted affairs.

Platform Not Drafted Yet.

The platform of the party, it is said, has not been drafted, but it is said

Bad Complexions Are Now Easily Discarded

(From the Beauty Seeker.)
Every woman has it in her own hands to possess a beautiful and youthful complexion. No matter how soiled, faded or coarse the cuticle, ordinary mercurized wax will actually remove it, and Nature will substitute a skin as soft, clear and lovely as a child's. The action of the wax is not drastic, but gentle and agreeable. Minute particles of scar skin come off day by day, yet no evidence of the treatment is discernible, other than the gradual complexion improvement. The once of mercurized wax, procurable at any drugstore, suffices for most cases. It is put on at bedtime like cold cream and taken off in the morning with warm water. It is a certain method of discarding tan, freckles, sun spots, liver spots, moth patches, blackheads and pimples.
Wrinkles can be treated with benefit by bathing the face in a lotion prepared by dissolving 1 ounce powdered sassafras in 1/2 pint witch hazel. Instantaneous results are secured.

to follow in a general way the various progressive state platforms adopted in the past four weeks, is expressive of adherence to the more advanced political principals of the day. The platform which Colonel Roosevelt was said to have brought to Chicago seven weeks ago, but which was not made public, probably will form the basis of the new declarations of political faith.

Open With Prayer.

The convention program for tomorrow calls for convening at noon, opening prayer, reading of the call signed several weeks ago, the nomination for the election and speech of Mr. Beveridge as temporary president; the appointment of committees and the adoption of the resolution inviting Colonel Roosevelt to address the convention Tuesday afternoon. If all of this can be accomplished by 3 p. m. it is proposed that the first session shall close with an "experience meeting," in which a representative from each state is expected to tell in a brief address why he is a progressive and why he was alienated from the old parties.

Roosevelt Insists on Having His Way.

New York, Aug. 4.—The National Progressive party must accept Colonel Roosevelt's political doctrine if he is to be its standard bearer. He said late today as he started for Chicago that he would insist upon making his "confession of faith" to the delegates before the committee which is to draft the platform, makes its final report, and that he would not accept the nomination on a platform which did not meet with his approval.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech was originally scheduled for Monday night. It was suggested to him that the time of its delivery be postponed, and he sent word to his managers that he would not consent to a delay until after the platform had been presented to the convention. Advance copies of the speech reached the leaders of the new party several days ago. The colonel said nothing, however, to indicate that the suggestion for a delay in the delivery of the speech was due to the impression of those who had read it.

T. R. Says Faith May Be Anarchy.

Mr. Roosevelt said that in his speech, he had dealt fully with all the great political questions of the day. He spoke frankly and fearlessly, he said, and believed that the convention ought to be fully apprised of his views before ratifying the tentative nomination which he accepted at Chicago last month. He contends that it was upon a question of principle that he left the republican party and, that as he has done so, he cannot make a compromise of principle in accepting the leadership of the new movement. His declaration of political faith, he said, is one which will be termed either socialism or anarchy and probably both, but represents his convictions. He goes to Chicago to make these views known and to accept the presidential nomination only if they are acceptable in their substantial provisions to the new party.

According to the present arrangement, Colonel Roosevelt will deliver his speech Tuesday.

Colonel Starts for Convention.

Colonel Roosevelt left Oyster Bay early in the afternoon by automobile for New York where at 4 o'clock, he took a train which is due in Chicago early in the morning. He was accompanied only by Mrs. Roosevelt and his secretary.

PARTY NOMINEES IN TEXAS ARE DECIDED

OFFICIAL RETURNS CANVASSED. PRENDERGAST WINS FOR CRIMINAL APPEALS COURT.

Special to The Morning News.

Dallas, Aug. 4.—The following are the nominees of the democratic party in Texas as a result of the state primary a week ago:

For governor—O. B. Colquitt.
For lieutenant governor—W. H. Mayes.

For comptroller—W. P. Lane.
For attorney general—B. F. Looney.
For treasurer—J. M. Edwards.

For land commissioner—J. T. Robinson.

For commissioner of agriculture—Ed R. Kone.

For railroad commissioner—W. D. Williams and Earle Mayfield.

For associate justice supreme court (long term)—Nelson Phillips.

For associate justice supreme court (short term)—W. E. Hawkins.

For associate justice court of criminal appeals—A. C. Prendergast.

While the returns have been officially canvassed, corrected figures have not been received from all counties, but enough are in hand to remove all doubt of the nomination of Looney, Mayfield and Prendergast, whose nominations have been in doubt up to this time. It is apparent that Looney has defeated Walthall by a majority approximating 13,186. Mayfield has defeated Wortham by a majority approximating 8,290 and Prendergast has won over Muse by a majority of about 9,517.

Final and corrected figures may change these majorities slightly, but not enough to change the result.

REAR-END COLLISION KILLS 3, INJURES 32

VICTIMS HAD JUST WITNESSED UNSUCCESSFUL AIR FLIGHTS IN TORREON.

By The Associated Press.

Torreón, Mex., Aug. 4.—Three passengers were killed and 32 injured, many of them seriously, in the collision of electric trains near here today. The trains of three cars each, were bearing back from the suburb colonies who had witnessed tests of two aeroplanes intended for use in the campaign against the rebels in the north. The flights came to an end when Captain Alvarez ran his monoplane into a line of electric wires. He was caught beneath his machine when it fell, but escaped with only slight injuries. When the announcement was made that the tests would be discontinued the spectators crowded into the waiting cars and dozens clung on to the forward and rear platforms. The forward train slowed down and the one following crashed into it. Most of those injured occupied the platforms.

Aviator Injured When His Machine Hits Chicken Coop

By The Associated Press.

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 4.—Hillery Beachey, an aviator, was badly injured here this afternoon when his aeroplane, after descending from a short flight, sped along the ground and crashed into a chicken coop. Beachey was picked up unconscious and an examination disclosed several broken bones. His injuries are not considered fatal, however.

Mingo Sanders, who was a sergeant of the negro infantry regiment discharged from the army for participation in the Brownsville riots, as a messenger, led Colonel Roosevelt to criticize the president sharply. Sanders took the stump in the Ohio primary fight between Colonel Roosevelt and President Taft.

"Sergeant Mingo Sanders," said the colonel, "was the oldest and most respected non-commissioned officer in the companies which on the recommendation of Secretary of War Taft, were discharged without honor in 1906, and of whom Mr. Taft, as secretary of war in 1905 spoke of as follows:

"It goes without saying that if the guilty could be ascertained, they should and would be punished, but the guilty cannot be ascertained and the very impossibility of determining who are the guilty ones makes the whole battalion useless to the government as an instrument for maintaining law and order. The only means of ridding the military service of a band of would-be murderers of women and children and actual murderers of one man is the discharge of the entire battalion."

In his report and recommendations, Mr. Taft explicitly said that the veteran non-commissioned officers in charge of the battalion, were, of course, more responsible for what had occurred than the others and nothing has occurred since to alter the position of Sanders, except his use by Mr. Taft's campaign managers in Ohio. In short, he was discharged by Mr. Taft's recommendation on his military record. He is reinstated upon Mr. Taft's political record.

"If Mr. Taft did not tell the truth about Mingo Sanders and his colleagues in his report as secretary of which from which I have quoted above, then his conduct needs no characterization by me. If he did tell the truth, then his reinstatement of Mingo Sanders in the public service is still less in need of any characterization of me."

CONGRESS IS ON LAST LAP

ANTAGONISM TO ABOLISHMENT OF COURT AND LIMITING OF CIVIL SERVICE.

BATTLESHIPS AND TARIFF

Although Senate Wants Two Ships, It Will Likely Accept House Bill For Just One.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Congress will begin tomorrow what is expected to be the last fortnight of the present session. Adjournment by August 15 or 17 is confidently expected. The postponement of the Archibald impeachment trial until December 3 has cleared the decks of the senate so action on the remaining legislative matters can be pushed to a speedy finish. Uncertainty exists as to the failure of some of the appropriation bills still at issue between the senate and the house.

Bitter Antagonism to Two Bills.

Determination to abolish the commerce court and to place a seven-year tenure of office in the civil service law has aroused antagonism which may be reflected from the white house in a veto of the bill appropriating money for the salaries of the federal officers.

This controversy has been expected by the leaders of both houses and an effort is to be made Monday to complete the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill so it may be sent at once to the president. In case of an executive veto, it is believed it can be again considered, passed and re-submitted to him in an amended form without seriously delaying plans for adjournment.

Tariff and Battleships.

Action on tariff bills and a re-opening of the two battleships' fight in the house will be features of this week's session. The senate will act on the compromise wool tariff bill tomorrow and will probably agree to it as the house has done. A meeting of the conference committee on the excise tax bill Monday or Tuesday is expected to result in an agreement that will send that measure also to President Taft during the week.

It has been asserted by the president's friends in both houses that he will veto all of the tariff bills to him. Such action would be accepted as final by congress and no attempt would be made at this session to repass the measures.

The democrats of the house will take up the battleship question in caucus again Tuesday, the leaders in the fight for at least one new man-of-war in this year's naval building program succeeded in forcing the third caucus on the subject and it is believed they will control the situation. If the house agrees to one ship, the senate is expected to accept the compromise, although it wants two.

Many of the most important appropriations bills remain to be completed and the senate has not as yet completed half of the expected debate on the Panama Canal administration bill. Both houses will begin daily sessions this week, however, and probably will sit evenings from 8 to 12, making twelve hours daily. Under such circumstances, business can be entirely disposed of, it is believed, within the time predicted by the advocates of early adjournment.

BROWNWOOD EXPECTS SANTA FE TERMINAL

By The Associated Press.

Brownwood, Tex., Aug. 4.—Rumors have become persistent in Brownwood to the effect that the Santa Fe is considering establishing the terminals of a new division here at an expenditure of about $500,000. A number of surveys have been made about Brownwood by Santa Fe parties, but although the chief engineer in charge of the surveying parties has never given out specific information, for some time past it has been a matter of general talk that a new Santa Fe division is to be established. This new division, it is said, is to consist of a number of miles of track now attached to the regular southern division of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe. This division at present is comprised of the main line of the Santa Fe from Bellville yards to Cleburne, the line from McGregor to Waco and from Temple to Sterling City, including the Coleman cut-off and the branch from Lometa to Eden.

A party of prominent Brownwood people left for Galveston to hold a conference with the officials of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe there in connection with the new terminals, it is said. Nothing was given out about the departure of the Brownwood citizens for Galveston, but it has been learned that members of the party were Mayor Looney, G. N. Harrison and Brooke Smith.

Some color has been lent these rumors by the fact that during the last two months Brownwood has been visited by Santa Fe officials, among them being General Manager, Pettibone, General Superintendent Maxson, Chief Engineer Merritt and Division Superintendent Hull of Temple.

TAFT CONGRATULATES THE KING OF DENMARK

DANISH AMERICANS PRESENT PARK-GOVERNMENT RELATIONS STRENGTHENED.

By The Associated Press.

Aarhus, Denmark, Aug. 4.—King Christian today received at Marseborg Castle the members of the committee representing the Association of Danish Americans, which has presented a new national park in Jutland to the government. The American minister to Denmark, Dr. Maurice F. Egan, on behalf of President Taft, honorary president of the association, read a message from Mr. Taft, extending greetings to the king and people of Denmark. The message was as follows:

"On the occasion of the presentation to His Majesty, King Christian, of a deed to the Danish American National Park, I desire that you convey in my name, as honorary president of the association, and in the name of the people of the United States, my warmest greetings to King Christian and the Danish nation.

Taft's Message.

"It is with great pleasure that I have witnessed the action of the American citizens of Danish birth in this country in acquiring a tract of 400 acres of land near Aalborg for the purpose of establishing a Danish-American national park to the dedication of the Danish government and to be at all times open to the public.

"I am gratified to be identified in any act in my capacity as honorary president of the association. It recognizes in it a concrete expression of the cordial relations which have always existed between the Danish and American people which are today based more firmly than ever on friendship, understanding and mutual esteem.

"On this happy occasion, I desire you to convey to His Majesty and to the Danish people my sincere wishes for his happiness and welfare and the continued prosperity of the Danish nation."

King Responds.

In response to the king's saying: "I have heard words in the name of the president of the United States in which I see new testimony of friendship and understanding between the Danish and American people with the greatest pleasure. I beg you to give to President Taft my heartfelt thanks for the interest he has taken in the realization of the plan acquiring the Rebild tract as a proof of the loyal feelings towards their old country of the men and women of Danish birth who have found a home in your country."

"In my own name and in the name of the Danish people, I request you to convey to Mr. Taft on this pleasant occasion and through him to the American people, the Danish people and my own warmest greetings and best wishes for the future."

Dr. Max Henius of Chicago, chairman of the committee, handed the deed to the king, saying:

"It is our hope that the sentiments which prompted us will help in the future in further cementing the good relations between the citizens of Denmark and the United States and that this Danish-American park will become a meeting place for Americans, native or foreign born, sojourning in Europe, and that on every fourth of July, the stars and stripes will wave alongside the Danish flag on the hills of Rebild, symbolizing the friendship of the nations."

The deed was enclosed in a leather case bearing the Danish and American flags. The formal inauguration of the park at Rebild Hills will take place tomorrow.

After the formal ceremony today the king entertained the committee at luncheon. Count Von Moltke, the Danish minister to the United States, sat at the king's right and Dr. Henius at his left. The Danish premier sat at the queen's right and the American minister at her left. Their Majesties conversed with their guests after the luncheon for more than an hour.

His route, of necessity, will be over a wagon road leading to Gallegos, a point to the east on the Mexican Central and due south of Juarez.

On reaching the central right-of-way, which has been disrupted between the city of Chihuahua and border Salazar will either move north, joining Orozco here, or Orozco will move south to join Salazar. Orozco still says nothing regarding his next move, although he admits that he expects to vacate Juarez soon.

VIRGINIA OUTLAWS SAID TO BE IN WASHINGTON

By The Associated Press.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 4.—Information that Sidna Allen and Wiley Edwards, the Virginia outlaws, were believed to be hiding in the vicinity of Seattle, caused the federal and county authorities to conduct a thorough search of the surrounding country for the men, but neither was found. Allen is said to have been seen at Ballard, a Seattle suburb, two weeks ago. The local authorities kept the fact of their search secret.

POLICE COMMISSIONER OF NEW YORK RECOMMENDS AN INVESTIGATION.

CLOSE ON THE TRAIL

Hard Fight Expected When Detectives Finally Encounter Two Desperate Characters.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 4.—Police Commissioner Rhinelandor Waldo, in a statement tonight relative to the Rosenthal case, recommended an impartial and thorough investigation of the charges made regarding the alleged connection between the police and gamblers. At the same time he declared that gambling can exist only because the gamblers can obtain what amounts to protection from the courts and asserted that gamblers do much of the corrupt election work of the political parties who place the judiciary on the bench.

While the issuance of this statement was the most important development today, it was reported at police headquarters that detectives were close on the trail of "Lefty Louie" and "Gyp the Blood," the two remaining gangmen sought. Protector Hughes spent his third day in charge of a force of detectives near Tannersville in the Catskills today. It is known positively that "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie" and "Whitey" Lewis were in Tannersville last week. Lewis left the others to go to Fleischmann's, where he was captured.

"Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" are believed, however, to have remained in Tannersville.

Both "Lefty Louie" and "Gyp the Blood" are known as desperate characters, reputed to be dead shots. They are believed to be armed. A hard fight is looked for by the police when the detectives finally attempt to arrest the alleged murderers.

District Attorney Whitman, who has been spending the week-end at Manchester, Vermont, will return to this city tomorrow and resume his work in his case.

Lieutenant Charles Becker, deposed head of the "Strong Arm Squad," today was preparing himself for the end in the Tomb for his ordeal tomorrow, when he will be arraigned to plead to the indictment charging murder. Neither he nor the other eight prisoners held made any statements today.

Commissioner Waldo declared in his statement that at no time in his history has the police department been so well prepared to stand an investigation as at present.

CHINA GOING SLOW ON 30 MILLION LOAN

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENTS ARE AFRAID OF DOMINATION BY FOREIGN POWERS.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 4.—It is known that while the negotiations for the $30,000,000 are deadlocked, the provisional governments of the new Chinese republic are supplying the funds for their conduct by contribution of sums which the viceroys formerly supplied to the old dynasty.

Word comes to Washington that the provincial governments are opposing the loan, which they believe would place China completely under the domination of foreign powers. Although American bankers were to participate in the new financing, it is said in diplomatic circles that, if China could get the money in any other way, the abandonment of the loan project would be viewed with equanimity by the United States. Although the United States has been loyally fulfilling its understanding with the five other powers interested in the loan, it has been advising the new republic against embarking on an era of expenditure beyond the power of the people to bear.

LUCK AND EARNED RUN WINS FIRST GAME FROM HOUSTON

Visitors Throw Scare Into 3-2 Exhibition In Last Inning---Defeat of League Leaders Attended By Large Crowd Sunday

By Whoop-la.

Ellis Hardy and his Navigators, in taking the opening game of the series from Houston yesterday by a score of 3 to 2, incidentally hooked a little sweet revenge for themselves—and thereby hangs a tale of ancient history, thusly:

Along in the fore part of the season the Waco club was leading the percentage column. They had a pipkin of a nine, and were going a fast clip when, bingo, just like that, things went wrong—pitchers wobbled, the mainstays with the stick stubbed their toes, Beck hurt his finger, two or three of the players were feeling on the blink—in fact, the Naves struck one of those slumps that can't be overcome.

About this time the Buffaloes came to town. Their pitchers were all going fine, everybody was hitting over his speed, every play went with a made-to-order sureness that was favored by the best kind of a luck-break—in short, Houston was going as good as Waco wasn't.

There could be but one outcome to a situation of this kind. The bad-going Navigators were hooked by the fast-going Buffaloes, pulled out of first place and started on a toboggan ride that looked like it didn't have any ending to it.

Hardy Sticks Along.

But Hardy and his bunch held on for dear life and finally got the steering gear regulated, the brakes to working a little and eventually managed to stop the slide. Then they looked back up at the top. Gee, it was a long climb. By using field glasses, Hardy could make out Houston, sailing along up there all alone. The doughy manager of the Shippers called his husky bunch around him, pointed up at the top of the long slide they had just slid, and said—or words to that effect: "Let's go get 'em."

Talk about a long uphill fight. The Naves started out bravely, but every once in a while they'd strike a greased spot and slip back to where they started from, although never below. They stuck at the job, however, and, finally, hit a gait that refused to recognize the greased spots.

Then, all at once, the pitchers rounded into form, the sluggers began to slug, the infield and outfield started hooking everything they could get a little finger on—in other words, the plucky Navigators struck their true stride and began tearing up things once more.

Then Houston went wrong. The pitchers, overworked and sore, began slipping, the hitters ran into a slump, their pet plays began going wrong—in fact, they arrived here yesterday morning a badly scared set of leaders, and it begins to look like Hardy and his hardy crew are about to "get 'em."

Naves Lucky Yesterday.

There can be no denying, however, when all is said and done, that the locals were pretty lucky in hooking that opening game. At least two of the scores were pure luck and nothing else. One came after Stewart had been caught flat-footed off third in a double steal. Stewart had reached first by being hit by a pitched ball after two had gone out in the first inning. Akin followed with a Texas leaguer to right that sent Stewart around to third. When Akin started to steal second, Stewart took a good lead. Allen instead of throwing to second, faced that bag but snapped the ball down to third and Stewart tore for the plate. Britton's return throw was in plenty of time, but Allen failed to squeeze the ball. Umpire Newhouse first called the runner out, but had to change up when he saw the ball roll out of the mixup.

The second run, in the third inning, was almost as lucky. It was on a squeeze. Beck was on third with one out and with Akin at bat started a squeeze. Helm saw it coming and in an attempt to throw the ball out of Akin's reach heaved it clean out of the catcher's reach as well, and Beck scored.

The third run was more of an earned character, although it, too, started with a base on balls after two had gone out. Carson drew the walk, and Miller scratched a single through the infield, although Carson was held at second. Duguey then drove a clean one to left, Carson scoring, but Miller retiring the side when caught at third after the throw home to catch Carson.

Fans Scared Half to Death.

Houston, just to show a flash of their old-time speed, threw a large-sized scare into fans and players in their half of the ninth. The Buffaloes have had so much luck against the Navigators this season that the fans are scared half to death anyway all the time they are at bat, so in their last chance when being slapping the ball in the nose and the local infield ran into a couple of stubbed toes, the fans felt the goose-pimples rising and it was some hours afterwards before some of the weak-kneed bugs succeeded in getting a good full breath.

The fans were feeling good in the eighth because Crichtlow had backed up against the fence, reached about nine feet up against the palings and picked one off for Pat Newman. So, when Beck started the last spasm with a sensational one-handed pickup, everybody's courage was at full tide.

Before anybody knew what was going on, two runs were in and Manager Fillman was at the bat, two out and two men on base.

Wow!

Maybe old man Rennard out in right field didn't squeeze that baseball when Fillman hit it to him. He was deliberate about it, was Rennard—just stuck his spikes down about two inches into the turf, took a big breath, hunched up all his muscles and when it hit his glove he hooked his finger-nails in the seam and held on.

Miller Plays String Out.

Vic Miller pitched a heady, cool, winning game every step of the way, even in the ninth. When in trouble at the last, Hardy asked him how he was feeling and he asked to be allowed to finish, Fillman retiring the side on the next ball or two pitched.

It was a grand game—and there's going to be some more grand games in the next few days. Houston may not be going as fast as she was a while back, but she still has something and will fight every inch of the way. And the Navigators are going to have to keep up their stride not only in the next two games they play with the Buffaloes, but in the four games that follow with the Bronchos. One of the gladsome features of the scene yesterday was the story told by the score board of Dallas' double win over the Bronchos.

And, by the way, that three-cornered race in this league has tightened up to where somebody's going to bust. And it isn't going to be the Navigators, either.

COULDN'T LOVE
OLD CADAVER

BRIDE OF FEW DAYS DRAWS ON
SPOUSE'S BANK ACCOUNT TO ELOPE.

BUT LEFT HIM SOME

Anyway, Without a Wife He Wouldn't Need Much Money, She Explains.

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, Aug. 4.—"When I found I could not love my husband I left him. But because I went away with another man don't mean that I wanted to marry him. I'd have gone away with anybody. I'd sooner stay in this cell for six months than live with Mr. Schudel. And I want to get to Vienna; I don't like any men."

Tearfully Mrs. Ida Edith Schudel, who, after experiencing married life less than a week with Max Schudel, ran off to Hoboken with Frank Jahn, intending to leave for Europe, so explained her case yesterday. Mrs. Schudel was in a cell of the Hoboken lockup. Directly beneath her, on another tier, was Jahn, to whom, but a moment before, she had written in German, imploring him to get her something to eat.

"He Was a Nice Old Man."

"It was this way," said Mrs. Schudel, who, about 24, not unattractive, and speaking with a slight accent, readily told of her plight. "I had been in Baltimore over two years working as housekeeper for Mr. Jahn. He told me he was going back to Europe and would need me no longer. So I advertised in a German paper in Baltimore for a place as housekeeper."

"Mr. Schudel, who had known Mr. Jahn, wrote me. But when he talked about it with me he said he did not want me as a housekeeper, but as his wife. So I married him. He was a nice old man, I thought, and would give me a good home."

"He gave me all the jewels which belonged to his first wife, and the day after we were married he made his bank account out in both our names. I didn't think I could draw any of it out without his name, but he told me I could."

"Two days after I married him I knew I had made a mistake. I couldn't live with him. I told him so. He said I would get over it. I knew nobody in Baltimore except Mr. Jahn. I went to him and begged him to take me away with him. He told me he had only $150 and that wasn't enough."

"I went to the bank the next day and drew out nearly $1,700, but," naively, "I left Mr. Schudel $65 in the bank. That was enough for him. Besides, with his wife away from him he wouldn't need any money. I told Mr. Jahn I had the money, and he told me to get ready. I didn't write my husband good-bye, because I had told him I was going to leave him."

She said Jahn had not told her how to get the money; nor did she think she was doing anything wrong to leave her husband when she did not love him.

"I'm sick of men," she said. "All I want is to go back to Vienna."

Before leaving Baltimore Mrs. Schudel said she had been housekeeper for a family in Hoboken. She had been in the country less than four years.

Jahn Says He Made a Mistake.

Jahn declares he never had tried to get Mrs. Schudel to run away with him, and insisted he had no idea that they were to live together. He said he had promised to help her get out of the country, and that was all. He said he had several good friends in Baltimore and was a member of several German singing societies. He is a pale man, sickly and somewhat nervous.

Asked to explain how he happened to have tickets for an ocean passage made out as man and wife and why he had registered as man and wife at a Jersey City hotel, he said:

"That was where I made a mistake. I shouldn't have done that."

Jahn's 3-year-old son is being cared for at a children's home while his father is locked up.

Services at Carmel are Abandoned as the Sheriff Starts After Girl's Slayer.

Special to The Morning News.

Stanger, Mair, Aug. 4.—A posse of 100 men under direction of Sheriff White left Carmel village today on the trail of Sherman Gray, who is accused of the murder of little Naomi Mitchell last Wednesday night and who is believed to be lurking in the woods southeast of the village, where he was seen Friday.

Services in churches were abandoned by men. They are accompanied by Pete, the bloodhound from State prison at Thompson, and the special watchdog of the prison. The officers declare that they will capture Gray within a short time and that he has not escaped from this section of the state.

Sheriff White has thrown a posse of 100 men into the woods and every section is being beaten. The search is being concentrated upon a bog known as the Elina to Carmel and is overgrown with birch and alder so thick that it is almost impossible for a person to penetrate its depths.

Gray is a corn woodsman. Big as he is, he can squirm through a thicket with the ease of a wild animal. It is the general belief that he has squeezed his way into a recess of the bog and is hiding there. His principal food must be wild berries.

The victim of the attack was buried yesterday. Her mother is seriously ill with a newly born babe at her side.

AMERICAN GIRL TO MARRY HER GUIDE

SHE IS CENTER OF ROMANCE OF TRAVEL—HER FIANCE DIVORCES FRENCH WIFE.

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, Aug. 4.—As the culmination of a romance that extended around the world, Miss Lucie Munder, niece of Mr. Theodore Marburg, and daughter of Mr. Morris Munder, 19 West Twenty-Ninth street, is in England awaiting the expiration of the period prescribed by the British law before she may marry Frederick Fischer, a tourist's courier, employed for a number of years by Miss Emma Marburg, the young woman's aunt, with whom she traveled.

It was rumored that the young woman had defied her parents and broken all home ties in going to Europe to marry Fischer, but this was denied tonight by Mr. Munder, her father, who said he had withdrawn all objections to the match before Miss Munder sailed last month.

Interest is added to the story by the fact that in order to marry Miss Munder, Fischer had to divorce his wife, a French woman, and by the law of that country, must support her, even though married again.

Attentive as Guide.

For years Miss Munder has been traveling abroad with her aunt, Fischer, who is about 50 years old, of French-Irish descent, was engaged as a guide. Of brilliant mind and fascinating temperament, he conducted Miss Marburg and her party on many trips, one around the world, looking after every detail of travel. While he planned amusements and new sights for the aunt, it appears he was courting the cousin, Miss Munder, who is 27 years old, is said to have been not averse to his attentions.

He Follows to Baltimore.

Last year Miss Marburg, with Miss Munder, returned from Europe. Fischer followed and paid several visits to their home. The affair did not have plain sailing. It is said that there was opposition from relatives and friends of Miss Munder. But Fischer didn't despair. Last fall, before he returned to Europe with Miss Marburg and a party, he attended a dinner given in his honor at the Munder home. When he left he was, it is said, engaged to Miss Munder.

Miss Munder Sails Alone.

Neither of Miss Munder's two sisters, Mrs. William Lee, Howard of Boston, nor Miss Lela Munder of Washington, was asked to go with her to Europe. A relative in Paris was asked to meet her in New York. Miss Munder sailed from New York June 14 without waiting for the arrival of this relative and they passed in mid-ocean. Mr. Munder received a telegram from his daughter on July 2 announcing that she had arrived safely.

The English law requires a month's residence previous to marriage. It is believed by Mr. Munder that the wedding will take place within the first week of August. Miss Marburg was in Paris in December and it is believed that she will be in London to attend the wedding.

Examination showed death was due to starvation and heart failure.

BATHED TOO MUCH AS BABY; REFUSES TO TAKE BATH NOW

Special to The Morning News.

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 4.—Not having taken a bath in 20 years is the record of Ezekiel Parker, a farmer living in the northern part of Craven county. Several days ago he related the cause of his absence from the tub for such a long time.

"When I was a youngster," said Mr. Parker, "my mother took a delight in having me take a bath every day in the year. Rain or shine, hot or cold, I was compelled to immerse myself in the tub."

"After my mother died I took no more baths. My health began to improve after I stopped bathing so much and there is not a man in this country who is more healthy than I am."

Mr. Parker is almost a giant in size. His face is ruddy and he looks the perfect picture of health, and from all outward appearance will live to a ripe old age.

High School Girls Are Now Falling To The Cigarette Lure

Special to The Morning News.

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 4.—Tat the cigarette habit is spreading among the women of Pasadena, and that the use of the weed has invaded the ranks of the girls of the Pasadena high school was the statement made by Dr. W. A. Cundy, a prominent physician of this city, who spoke before the W. C. T. U. recently. Dr. Cundy declared the afternoon cigarette habit was not confined to the fashionable houses of Orange Grove avenue or to the tourist hotels, but was to be found in many of the average homes of the city.

"Cigarette smoking among women is on the increase," said Dr. Cundy. "And that is not the most deplorable feature for many young girls in this city have acquired the habit. The worst angle of the whole affair is that the boy or the girl who cannot get along without cigarettes has unconsciously become a drug user, for within the cigarette is a tiny bit of drug which makes it so alluring and such a strong captor."

"I was in a factory in Los Angeles this week and on that particular day 40,000 cigarettes for women were to be made."

"LEMONS NOT PEACHES FOR ME," SAYS NAT GOODWIN

Special to The Morning News.
San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Nat C. Goodwin and a party consisting of Miss Margaret Morland, the actress who last season was his leading woman, Herman Roth, his attorney, and Mr. and Mrs. Simmons of New York City, have arrived from Los Angeles. "I am here," said Goodwin, "to look after real estate and not to be married. I have amused myself this summer looking after the development of my ranch at San Jacinto, which I am planting in oranges, lemons and other citrus fruits. I am going to specialize on lemons. No more peaches for me. "Miss Morland and I are to open in Los Angeles soon, but in different companies. She is to lead a stock company and I am to open in my play, 'Oliver Twist,' in about three weeks. "Mr. Roth and Mr. and Mrs. Simmons are here merely for pleasure. They have never been in California before."

LET EVERYBODY COME.

Press dispatches announcing that a local labor union in Chicago has appointed a committee to visit Texas and investigate agricultural advantages, indicate that at last labor problems are nearing satisfactory and permanent solution. There are few troubles in this life that Texas soil and climate cannot relieve when properly applied. No matter how far away they may be, any person who will stand on tiptoe can see a marvelous prosperity awaiting him in Texas and all those who are weary and heavy laden should come to Texas.

Prominent men are always to the front in every movement that makes for the upbuilding of the city.

EGG BUSINESS IS LARGE ONE

WACO AND TEXAS SUPPLY MANY EASTERN MARKETS—STORAGE EGG DEFENDED.

BUSINESS GROWING FAST

Waco Company Has Ice House Filled With "Hen Fruit"—Good Local Demand.

The egg industry of the state of Texas has grown to such proportions that it is about to rival some of the much boasted of agricultural products of the state. Within the past few years the production of eggs by this state has more than doubled, until today Texas supplies the eastern, northern and foreign markets with this product. The growth of the business within the territory tributary to Waco has been noticeable. Locally, it has gained such proportions that at present there are several large commission houses engaged in the storage and shipping of eggs at the Waco market. Several storage houses in the city are given over entirely to the storage of this product, for the local market, and awaiting shipment on orders from the eastern as well as foreign markets.

One company has leased the entire storage rooms of one of the large ice concerns. In these rooms are stored thousands of eggs. The rooms are kept at a temperature of 30 degrees. The eggs are gathered in April, May and June. They are candied, as provided by the pure food law of the United States, and stored. During the hot summer months, when the sun spoils the fresh-laid egg, the storage product is sold. The greatest demand for the storage egg is during the months of July, August, September, and the egg is used up until January. With the advent of that month fresh eggs begin to make their appearance. In this connection it is interesting to note that statistics show that Texas produces the first fresh eggs of any state in the union.

Cold Storage Eggs Supply Waco.

Practically all eggs used in Waco today by the hotels and restaurants, as well as by the private family, are of the cold storage variety. Gradually, as the feasibility of keeping eggs in cold storage is shown the consumer, his original distaste for the cold storage product vanishes. Until the average man who takes his meals at the restaurant or hotel prefers the cold storage to the fresh egg in the hot season. Eggs in cold storage are selling at $5.50 per case to the jobbing trade. The price this time in the year 1911 was $5 per case. As the winter months advance the price of eggs likewise take a raise. Last year during the winter months the price went as high as $5.50 and $9 per case. Notwithstanding the lower price now, the restaurants still charge 10 cents for two.

The egg business has grown to be one of the largest of any in the United States. According to the manager of the largest commission house in Waco, the product of the hen is one-third greater in monetary value than the product of the cotton crop of the United States. As an instance of the enormous consumption of eggs, he said the city of New York alone uses a half million dollars worth of eggs daily.

"There is really a man, woman or child who does not eat eggs," he said. "Just ask every man you meet if he eats eggs, and 99 out of 100 will say yes. Some persons eat eggs at least once per day, others more often, but every one eats and enjoys an egg. I eat them every morning for breakfast."

Storage Egg the Best.

Continuing, he said: "The cold storage egg in the hot months is the best egg that can be secured. Of course, if an egg is kept stored from April until January or February, it may have a storage taste, but the average cold storage egg is wholesome. A fresh egg will not keep 24 hours during such weather as we are having now, so that it is impossible for the restaurants to serve fresh eggs. If the consumer will pay more and secure storage eggs, he will get a better grade."

Waco ships eggs to all parts of the United States. She furnishes New York and other eastern states with the product, and has had calls for eggs from as far off as New Brunswick. Asked about the price of eggs, the commission merchant said the price this month was almost the same as that of the same time last year. However, the consumption has not been as great. Especially, he says, this is true of the local trade. He explains this by stating that many of the city's inhabitants have left the city this summer, who in past years have been spending their summers here. There is a fair amount of eggs stored here now sufficient, he estimates, to supply the local trade during the remaining summer and winter months.

Mother, as Escort Guards Wooing Son On Courtin' Trips

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, Aug. 4.—When Frederick Moore of 1429 North Gay street goes courting his best girl his mother goes with him. When courting is done she again calls and escorts the 17-year-old lover safely to his home.

This much Moore admitted to Justice Dean in the Northeastern police court when he appeared as chief witness against James Brazier, 1402 North Chester street, and Charles Fuder, 1521 North Washington street, who had been arrested on complaint of Moore's mother, charged with disturbing the peace.

While the alleged disturbance was alleged to have occurred on Sunday evening, the real trouble, according to the testimony, began on Thursday night at a party. According to Moore, Brazier and Fuder objected to his presence at the party because he was "stuck up." Later he and Brazier "came together." The fight was stopped, but Moore says he was promised a beating later.

Fort this reason, since the night of the party, he has had his mother escort him to the home of his "best girl" and then call for him later and take him safely home under her protecting wing. Both Moore's mother and the mother of the "best girl" testified regarding the escort required by Moore when he went a-wooing.

Brazier's statement regarding the beginning of the trouble was altogether different.

"Moore got jealous, your honor," began Brazier, "because I kissed his best girl several times and tickled her under the chin. We had a fight over the kissing, and I thought it was over until the officer arrested me."

"Dismissed," said the magistrate, and I don't want any other cases of fights resulting from kissing other fellows' girls to come before me."

Missing Boy Left To Hunt Indians

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, Aug. 4.—Notwithstanding that a search has been made during the three days that have elapsed since he departed leaving a note which stated that he was going west to hunt Indians, no information has been received as to the whereabouts of Herbert Reiner, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reiner of 519 Scott street.

Police and relatives of the missing boy have exerted every effort to get a clue as to his whereabouts, but so far they have been unsuccessful, and his parents are much at sea over his disappearance, as they were when he departed.

The influence of motion pictures is thought to have been responsible for young Reiner's sudden departure. The boy is believed to have left home under the hallucination that he would meet with adventures like those he had seen in picture theaters. Only the night before he disappeared he had visited one of these places and had come home vividly impressed with what he had seen. Indeed, so enthusiastic was he over the photoplay he had seen, that his father remonstrated with him and told him that he could not frequent motion-picture parlors any more.

Young Reiner left home the next day, after leaving a note telling his parents he was going west to become a cowboy and that he would return home rich some day and take his parents back west with him.

TO GUARD MILLIONS OF INSANE EMPRESS

AUSTRIA AND BELGIUM AGREE CONCERNING PROPERTY OF MAXIMILIAN'S WIDOW.

Special to The Morning News.

London, Aug. 4.—A Brussels dispatch states that after long-drawn-out negotiations between the Belgian and Austrian courts in reference to the property of Princess Charlotte, ex-empress of Mexico and widow of the Emperor Maximilian, who was executed in June, 1867, at Queretaro, Mexico, an agreement has been reached finally.

The princess, who has been insane for many years, and lives at the Chateau de Bouchout, near Brussels, was the sister of Leopold II. After the death of the king the Austrian court made inquiries regarding the administration of the estate. A delegate has now arrived from Austria to look into the accounts, and will henceforth pay a visit of inspection yearly.

From the estate of her father, Leopold I, the princess received $2,000,000 on his death, in 1835, but owing to the condition of her health, she has furnished no accounting of the cost of her maintenance, etc. The value of her estate is now $12,500,000, a large proportion of this being invested in England.

The princess is 72 years old and enjoys good health. The fits of mental illness from which she long has suffered are now rare. Since the death of her husband she has been under medical restraint.

Leopold II. was devotedly attached to her. For some years she lived at the Tervuren palace, but in those days her malady took a violent turn, and she contrived to set the palace afire and burn it down. With advancing years her illness became less acute but she is never seen outside the gates of her own park.

She often receives visits from relatives, who invariably present to her rare flowers. Formerly they brought her handsome presents, but she always brushed them aside to snatch a bouquet. The princess plays the piano frequently, but cannot be persuaded to try any new composition. She performs only the pieces which she learned as a girl.

In the evening she plays cards with one of her ladies in waiting, but always in silence, and she is permitted to win every game. The princess is very careful to exact homage, which she believes is still due to her as empress of Mexico; for throughout her weakness she has never forgotten that she occupied a throne.

There are no mirrors in the castle of Bouchout. Once the afflicted princess saw her reflection in a mirror and shrieked: "No!" She could not believe that the wrinkled face and the bent figure which confronted her were the representation of the once young and beautiful woman who sailed with her handsome husband from Trieste to occupy a foreign throne.

"DEATH" TO PICTURE POSTCARD

That interesting bouncing baby, "Dionysius," may not be able to turn to his mother's photograph album five years hence and have that fond parent say to him, "Dion, this is the picture postcard I had taken of you when you were three months old. I bought 100 of them for 20 cents."

The picture postcard, so far as it applies to the business of the first-class photographer, is doomed to go. The ultimatum went forth in Philadelphia the other day at the convention of the Photographers' Association of America. It was said that photographers could not live and have the business of postcards continue.

Girl Wooed By Mail, Both Love But Can't Wed

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 4.—A marriage license, fourteen love letters and a lawyer failed to get a wife yesterday for Wm. H. Failing, head of the Kensington Electric company. Judge Richard B. Burke of the superior court interrupted, temporarily at least, his correspondence school wooing. Now Failing is brideless, while his intended bride is the ward of the juvenile court at the annex.

Miss Ida Adele Dukes, of Brooklyn, a 19-year-old girl, who came to Chicago Saturday, prepared to marry Failing, whom she knew through a dozen or more love letters and his photographs, announced from the stand she was ready for the ceremony. Failing, a licensee in one hand and his love letters in the other, apparently was just as eager to hear the wedding bells.

Miss Dukes, whose mother is in California and whose father is a teacher of languages in Japan, resides with a brother at 55 Park avenue, Brooklyn. While a nurse at a sanitarium at Stamford, Conn., she put an advertisement in a paper asking to correspond with an "honorable man, object matrimony." Failing answered. Many letters and photographs were exchanged and finally Failing sent her money to come to Chicago to marry him. She started, but lost her ticket, and the money was sent and the girl started. Her brother, however, wired the police to investigate the character of Failing, and it was questionable, to hold the girl. She was arrested as her train arrived in Chicago.

On a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Failing to regain his bride a hearing was had before Judge Burke. "When did you meet this man?" asked the judge.

"In court today," answered the girl. "But I have his letters."

"And I have hers," added Failing, presenting a batch of letters sent from Brooklyn. These letters show the progress of the courtship. One of the first says: "By your letters and your picture I see I can trust you. I believe I like you truly. I just love your eyes. If we are suited, I know you are the one for me. I am glad you are tall, moved north. He says that the crops in the Laguna district, especially the cotton crops, are the finest in years. Last year, he says, the ranchers irrigated too much and the crop was spoiled, but this year all the crops, especially the cotton, are fine and the entire district promises to be a prosperous year."

While in Torreon, Mr. Sarinana learned the history of some of the rebel commanders who are fighting under Orozco. He says that the people in Torreon are wondering why these men are fighting for the people's liberties when they, themselves, are members of wealthy land owning families and own many thousands of acres of land in their own name. He says that J. J. Campos belongs to the wealthy Lujan family, which is the largest land owning family in that district. He is a landowner and was in charge of the hacienda of Sacramento, in Durango, before going on the warpath.

Louis Fernandez, another rebel general, is a native of Durango and is a member of the Fernandez family which owns large tracts of land in that state. One of his relatives was governor of the state at one time. Pablo Lavin, another rebel officer, is one of the largest landowners in the Laguna district, Sarinana says.

Gen. Luis A. Morillo, who has been operating west of Torreon, is the only one of the Torreon district rebel leaders who was not a landowner and wealthy. Morillo was a policeman at Torreon and San Pedro, and enlisted in the rebel ranks for the adventure. Of Morillo's work in San Juan del Rio and other towns in Durango, Sarinana says that he looted when looting was not necessary to feed his troops and destroyed without cause. He tells of the soldiers under Morillo, stabling their horses on the hardwood floors in the parlors of the wealthy people of that town and destroying property without reason. He says a band of rebels rolling a piano along the street as if it had been a packing case.

The El Paso man says that the poor people of the Laguna district believe that "the plan of San Luis Potosi" means that each will receive a tract of land and that they will be able to sell this and live in ease the rest of their lives. He says that the middle class do not understand why these landowners are carrying on a revolution for the common people unless it is to replace the Cientifico party in power at Mexico City.

The sun may shine, the sky be blue, Or calm may be the sea, But as my thoughts are all of you It matters not to me.

"Does your mother know about this?" asked Judge Burke.

"No?" The case was continued a week to give the detectives a chance to find the woman who is said to have lived with Failing a year or more.

"DEAD" MAN IS ALIVE.

Special to The Morning News.

Paris, Aug. 4.—The appearance of a man at the moment when what was supposed to be his body was being placed in the coffin led to a dramatic scene at Courbevoie, a Paris suburb.

A young man threw himself into the Seine from the Pont de Neuilly. Yesterday morning a corpse was recovered and was identified by a boy named Arrias as his 19-year-old brother, Hubert, who had disappeared from home after a quarrel. The corpse, having also been identified by the mother, the authorities gave permission for the remains to be taken to Mme. Arrias' house for the funeral.

The death certificate was made out and signed, and at noon friends and relatives assembled for the funeral. Mme. Arrias had promised her son a new suit of clothes for the national festival, and with touching affection insisted on the body being dressed in the new garments.

The undertakers were fastening down the coffin when shrieks were heard from the staircase, and a woman cried: "It is he! The corpse has come to life! Help!" Amid screams the mourners made a rush for the street.

In the midst of the din Hubert Arrias walked upstairs, and explained that he had decided to live at a hotel in the future, but remembering his mother's promised present, had come for his clothes. He was most indignant to find that a corpse was dressed in them.

The young man is still a corpse in the eyes of the law. At the mayor's return to life, he was informed politely that he was dead. He has now retired to the country pending his recall to life by the Seine Tribunal.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT DENISON UNDER WAY

KATY RAILWAY RESPONSIBLE FOR BETTER CONDITIONS. PAVING PROGRESSES.

Special to The Morning News.

Denison, Aug. 4.—The North Texas Gas company, recently granted a franchise to lay mains and laterals in this city to supply Denison with natural gas, is receiving material by the carload for beginning the work. Headquarters have been established and a large force is being assembled. The acquisition of natural gas here means a considerable saving to consumers.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas is equipping the fifth floor of the Security building in Denison for its division physicians and surgeons, and extensive improvements are being made for this purpose. Increased hospital facilities will thus be afforded.

In addition to a great amount of vitrified paving in the business section, work has commenced on East Main street, in the wholesale district, for this class of permanent material, affording improved facilities across the various railroad tracks.

Among the other activities here in the improvement line is the fitting up of new quarters in the Ford building here for the Southwestern Surety Insurance company, one of the largest bonding companies in the country, the last quarterly statement of which showed resources of $1,180,249.12.

The National Bank of Denison will soon occupy its handsome new home on the corner of Main and Rush.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas is parking around the union station here, which will add materially to the civic beauty of Denison.

A Mexican Newspaperman Says Many Rich Men are Leading the Rebels.

El Paso, Aug. 4.—M. Sarinana, employed on the Clarion del Norte, a Spanish paper formerly published in El Paso, has returned from Torreon and the Laguna district, where he has been making a study of conditions since the rebel activities have moved north. He says that the crops in the Laguna district, especially the cotton crops, are the finest in years. of their respective offices. The leader of the band said they were acting in the name of General Pascual Orozco, the rebel leader of Northern Mexico. No show of arms was made in making this demand. The little party of bandits next went from store to store and forced the proprietors to hand over what money they had on hand. At the hour stated they returned to the customs house and the office of the jefe politico, and these two officials handed over to them more than $15,000 of public funds, the remainder of $21,000 being made up by private reprisals.

The remarkable thing about the raid was that the police force and local military garrison offered no resistance to the robbers, who operated boldly and openly. They frightened the officers and the people of the town by declaring that a body of 200 rebels was lying in the outskirts, ready to march in and slay the inhabitants if their demands were not acceded to.

After securing what money was available, the seven robbers walked down to the wharf and took possession of a gasoline launch tied up there and chug-chugged several miles up the river, where they beached the vessel and loaded their plunder on pack animals and disappeared in the forest.

After the departure of the brigade the garrison got busy preparing for an attack by the rebels, but none appeared and none could be found.

RAILWAY BUSINESS FOR MAY.

For the month of May the net operating revenue of the railways declined five and five-tenths per cent per mile of line as compared with May, 1911, and that for May, 1911, was four and eight-tenths per cent less than for May, 1910. This is the salient fact of the monthly summary of the Bureau of Railway Economics, compiled from the reports of the railways to the Interstate Commerce commission, and embracing 90 per cent of the steam railway mileage of the country.

The total operating revenues were $226,109,262, an increase of $7 per mile of line over May, 1911. The operating expenses were $161,568,677, an increase of $24.29 per mile of line, while the net operating revenue was $64,740,585, a decrease of $17.23 per mile of line. Taxes amounted for the month to $9,897,501, or $45 per mile, an increase of nine and two-tenths per cent.

The decrease in net operating revenue was most severe for the eastern group of railways, amounting to eleven and nine-tenths per cent. For the southern group it increased four-tenths of one per cent, and for the western group less than one-tenth of one per cent. The aggregate of the net operating revenue for the eleven months of the

ABOUT LOCAL ISSUES.

Evidently the platform writers at the county convention Saturday did not consult Hon. Waller S. Baker before presenting the final draft to the convention. Mr. Baker says congressmen do nothing but try for appropriations in their own districts, and for this receive the plaudits of the people. The platform lauds Congressman Henry for his efforts in behalf of deep water in the Brazos. After all, we must admit that expenditures of money for rivers and harbors, for public buildings and for army posts, is but a local issue. The community which wins the larger harbor, the deeper river, the bigger postoffice and the army post, say the money is well spent, and that it was a necessity which the government was bound to recognize. The community which does not get it talks about the extravagance of congress, the waste of public money and the "play of politics" by the members of congress. The "local" issues are the things which tear us apart; which create dissensions in parties and among people; which arouse envy and jealousy between states and sections of the country. We are all after having our own axes ground and we never kick when the other fellow's bull is gored.

In Waco we are glad to have the government improve our Brazos river. We believe it is a transportation necessity that Texas needs. We can prove by many arguments that a waterway to the sea will benefit thousands and thousands of people along the meanderings of that stream, and those who live in that far stretch of productive country lying to the west and the southwest of us. The arguments we make are good ones, and the engineers of the war department agree with us that it can be done and that it ought to be done. We do not abandon a single claim, nor give up a single argument. On the other hand the great railroad system which form a net work of steel rails in and about this section do not believe that the waterway is necessary. They would rather handle the traffic and they think that with the railroad commission regulating the manner, methods and rates of the handling that the people do not need to deepen a river.

In Texas we believe in the Houston ship channel and in a deeper and greater harbor at Galveston; we also favor greater harbor facilities at Port Arthur, with the improvement of the Neches from Beaumont down to Port Arthur. These things are local issues that we believe in, and we cannot understand that other people do not grow as enthusiastic as we do.

On the other hand, we in Texas think it is rather extravagant in the federal government to maintain an army post at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming. It is near the border line of Canada, it is true, but we have no quarrel with Canada, and never will; it is an isolated place, with no conveniences and its location only provides local betterment in a business way for the people of that state. That is the local issue for Wyoming; we don't believe in it; we think it is a waste of public money and we are ready to denounce the Republican congressional influence which maintains it.

That is all there is to it from a "local issue" standpoint. We will never be able to maintain a government on economical lines, save the money of the people and get best results until all of us abandon our efforts for "local issues," and get down to plain, every day business methods, letting patriotism and public benefit rise above the personal desires that so often control us now. When we people at home are prepared to accept business legislation and applaud it, instead of urging our congressmen to look out for us, the balance of the country to the contrary notwithstanding, then we can expect patriotism and statesmanship in the halls of congress.

This brings us to the statement several times made that the tariff is a local issue. On this point could be written, but we won't go into the discussion. If our friends who raise wool, who manufacture shoes, paper, machinery, etc., will give up their local interest in a tariff, and we foolish neighbors who believe that there should be protection to the man next door who raises sheep and sugar, will see that we don't benefit by it, and we can strike down all the tariff tax, this issue, whether it be local or national, will be eliminated.

AS TO HIGHER EDUCATION.

There are many students of the Texas colleges and state normal schools who will be eligible in the contest that has been proposed by the Hogg Organization for Higher Education in Texas in the announcement of prizes to the value of $200 for the best oration from undergraduate students of all Texas colleges and state normal schools. The first prize will be $100, second prize $60 and the third prize $40. For the preliminary contest the state will be divided into six districts. In the final contest each district will be entitled to one representative. The district contests will be held not later than March, 1913. The single winning contestants in the district will meet at the State University for the final contest on the fourth Friday in April. The general theme of all orations will be "The Commonwealth's Need of the Services of Higher Education." Each contestant will choose one of the following phases of the general subject:

1. In Agricultural Pursuits.
2. In Manufacturing and Mining Industries.
3. In the Utilization of Natural Resources (Conservation of soil and forests, canals, irrigation, levees, railroads, etc.)
4. In Commerce.
5. In the Administration of government and Voluntary Civic Enterprises.
6. In the Administration of Justice.
7. In Journalism.
8. In the Preservation of Health and the Prevention and Cure of Disease.
9. For the Preparation of Teachers (teachers of all sorts, including teachers of religion).
10. To Afford Its Own People Equal Opportunities with the Better Equipped Men from Other States.
11. For the Elevation and Enrichment of Individual Life and Character.
12. For the Increase of Knowledge (research).

There is no doubt that in the mind of every student of a state institution, there is some idea of what Texas needs in the matter of higher education. They all know that the state schools are not properly provided for, and they know what can be done if the state would provide for funds necessary to put the University of Texas and the A. & M. College on a basis equal to that of other states. Let every student who is qualified to enter this contest take some part in it, and suggest things that will be strong in argument that they will persuade those who have the power to provide, to do the right thing in behalf of the schools.

A charter has been authorized by the secretary of state for the Jefferson County Traction company, the purpose of which is to construct and operate an interurban line between Beaumont and Port Arthur. M. M. Phinney of Dallas, is the principal stockholder in the company, and this means that the Stone & Webster corporation of Boston, is the real power in the organization, as Mr. Phinney is their Texas representative. This company owns the interurban line between Dallas and Fort Worth and that between Houston and Galveston, and the street car systems in Fort Worth, Dallas, Galveston, Houston and El Paso. It means that the Beaumont and Port Arthur people are to have a big interurban service, and it means more investment by the Stone & Webster people in Texas. There is no doubt in the minds of those who know that there will be many interurban lines constructed in Texas during the next few years, and there is every indication that sooner or later the Stone & Webster people will connect up their North and South Texas properties, giving through service by interurban from the Red river to the gulf, and furnishing sleeping cars that are propelled by electric power across the state. They are now challenging the steam roads for the bulk of the passenger business where interurbans are operated, and there is no reason why they cannot go after the freight business also. This is the day of rapid transit, and with the coming of electric lines to all parts of Texas there will be created an intercourse between towns that will be convenient for the people, and helpful to all localities. Beaumont is at the head of navigation on the Neches and Port Arthur is a sub-port of entry where ocean steamers come for freight. The business between the two places is active, and the construction of an interurban will be of benefit to that section.

They used to hunt foxes in Maryland, and back in 1898 the Patapsco Hunt club was organized. The club is dead now and the report is that wire fences killed it. When it was organized, Howard county, Maryland, was a "land of picturesque worm fences and hunting was a pleasure," but the coming of the wire fence adopted by the modern and up-to-date land owners, has destroyed the old hunting grounds, and the hounds of the celebrated pack are kept in leash. It was Big Foot Wallace who said that "civilization and barb wire have played h-l with Texas." But the wire fences have continued to come, the broad prairies are no longer as wide open as the limits of land extend, but are enclosed, and the man who runs the fox, drives the herd or travels across the country, must seek the defined roads, and no longer trespass on the property that the other man controls. There once was fox hunting in Texas, and now and then they go out for a run in Smith county and in Harrison county, but not as much as they did in days gone by.

There should be no doubt about what the Bull Moose will do in the matter of the negro in his new party. He found a negro suitable company for social entertainment; he preferred a negro to a white man for collector of the port at Charleston; he forced a negro postmaster on the people of Mississippi, and in other ways he has shown his very warm affection for the man of color. He has done but one thing that the negro can complain of, and that was his action in the Brownsville case, and we have always thought that Mr. Taft, as secretary of war, was responsible for it.

McLennan county's convention of Democrats endorsed liberal appropriations for the University of Texas and the A. & M. College of Texas. This will be a sufficient incentive to Newt, Williams, Harry Jordan, Joe Coffey and Berryman Terrell to see that the million dollars for the college and a large amount for the university are provided, if their votes can do it.

Cullen F. Thomas may feel perfectly at home with credentials from McLennan county at the Democratic state convention, but the Hon. Thomas H. Ball of Harris county, has never before known how important it is to represent such a good county as this.

How Hill Planned Canal Fight

Significance Just Becoming Known of Railroad King's Coup in Securing Line from Gulf to the Northwest.

When James J. Hill, the "empire builder of the North," got control of the Colorado & Southern five years ago the railroad world held its breath. The contest between Hill and Harriman was at its height and every move of the two wizards of western railroads was watched with interest. Hill had kept his plans to himself, and but a few members of his trusted executives knew his plans.

Now the railroad world is waking up to the significance of one of the biggest railroad coups of the day. In 1907 the Colorado & Southern consisted of a number of branch lines in Colorado, and control of two other systems by which through freight and passenger trains were operated to Galveston. The roads over which the Colorado & Southern operated and still operates, are the Fort Worth & Denver City and the Trinity & Brazos Valley, the individuality of which is maintained because of Texas laws.

About the time Hill acquired the Colorado & Southern the Panama canal was looming up before congress and the railroad world as a big bag-bear. Far-seeing railway executives knew that when the big ditch is placed in operation it will have a tremendous influence on the transportation business of the world. They knew they must provide means of meeting the shifting of transportation routes and must be prepared to offset any loss in traffic.

Plans to "Buck" Canal

None realized the influence of the canal more than Hill, and he early laid his plans to provide a routing that would commend itself to the shipping and traveling public sufficiently to get the business despite the Panama canal. And in these thoughts of the future originated Hill's first plans to acquire the Colorado & Southern. This line now is the nucleus around which he is building a system to reach from the gulf to Puget Sound, and which not only will furnish a short route over which an enormous volume of traffic must move, but which also will add to the development of the northwest, which is as a child to the great "empire builder."

When Hill took over the Colorado & Southern he already controlled the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Burlington. The Great Northern and the Northern Pacific cover the developed sections adjacent to the Puget Sound with a network of rails. The Spokane, Portland & Seattle, another Hill system, is formed by a merger of a number of small lines.

These lines are the beginning of the great Sound-to-the-Gulf system. Three great arteries converge at Spokane—a branch of the Great Northern from Vancouver, Everett and Seattle, a line of the Northern Pacific from Tacoma and Olympia, and a branch of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle from Portland to Spokane.

Train Service By November. From Spokane to Billings, Mont., the terminus of the Burlington, the new system follows the Northern Pacific. From Billings south to Orin Junction, Wyo., a branch of the Burlington which will connect with the Colorado & Southern is now being built and upon its completion rests the inauguration of the new railroad system. Work is completed as far south as Thermopolis, Wyo., and the remainder of the work is expected to be completed by October 1, in which event train service probably will be started about November 1.

From Orin Junction the new route will pass through Cheyenne. This was an orphan line when Hill acquired the road, but an extension to Fort Collins has unified the system. In fact, Hill has been so busy changing the map of his railroad properties in Colorado, that even residents of the Centennial state are unable to keep pace with the work.

South from Fort Collins, Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Trinidad the road will cross Colorado without any great grade, then will follow the Fort Worth & Denver City and the Trinity & Brazos Valley to the gulf. Hundreds of miles shorter than any other transportation line between the two important sections which it connects, Hill expects to see in the new line a railroad that will prove a thorn in the side of the ancient enemy—the Harriman lines. The entire system from Vancouver to the Texas line probably will be operated as one system, rumors in the railroad world already losing for the Colorado & Southern its identity.

Rivalry Continues.

There appears to be no end to the contest between the Hill and Harriman lines—it still goes on, though Harriman is dead and Hill has retired. The rivalry of ten years' standing is just as keen as when the rival railroad heads were chasing each other through mountain passes, canyons and along rivers in their contests for supremacy in Washington and Oregon. The battleground has shifted, new leaders bear the burden of the conflict, tactics have changed somewhat, but the rivalries and jealousies are as apparent as ever.

The Hill lines are still extending the rails of the Burlington reaching southward through Illinois into Kentucky and Tennessee, where they connect with southern lines at Paducah and Memphis. From the records of the past, no surprise would be occasioned in the railroad world if Hill some day would get a line south to New Orleans as a rival to the Harriman Illinois Central.

The Harriman lines, with railroads penetrating 23 states, are experiencing a lull in extensions—it may be a lull or a change of policy. At any rate, $75,000,000 has been set aside for improving and double tracking existing lines. With an exposition of international importance to be held in San Francisco, the Harriman lines, with two tracks, expect to distance all competitors. The next move in the big railroad game will be watched with interest.

One Millionaire Socialist

JAMES GRAHAM PHELPS STOKES

Special to The Morning News.
 New York, Aug. 2.—Regarding a suggestion that if he really wishes to "emancipate" the people, he should sell his possessions and distribute them among the poor, James Graham Phelps Stokes, millionaire Socialist candidate for mayor of Stamford, Conn., declared: "I would gladly do that very thing if there was the remotest chance that such a course would result in more 'emancipation' than the course I am pursuing. Almsgiving on a large scale has gone on for thousands of years, and doubtless with benefit to individual almsgivers and to some recipients, yet as large a proportion of the people are in as deep poverty as ever before. We Socialists find it very much more rational to use the means at our disposal to help break down the present unjust system and to help rear in its stead an industrial democracy in which every worker shall be assured of the enjoyment of as much wealth as he cares to produce."

Markets

STOCKS.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 4.—Speculative sentiment in the stock market last week derived encouragement from various sources—agricultural, financial, industrial and political. Business at the Exchange expanded on a rising scale of prices to the largest day's total since early in the year. The rise in prices had the effect of dislodging some bear accounts. The higher stages of the advance, however, brought in some realizing sales of dormant accounts on the long side.

The dominant influence of the crops was perceptible in the proportionately greater advance of railroad stocks in the northwest, where the subsidaries of fears of rust of spring weather brightened the prospects of a prosperous year.

Maintenance of the St. Paul dividend was interpreted in that sense. Corn and cotton advances were not so satisfactory until showers in Texas indicated a check to the deterioration in cotton. The government condition report on cotton, also for July, showing a decline of 2.9 points in a month, it was feared, did not measure the full amount of deterioration to the date of issuance of the report.

The advance in Canadian Pacific outmeasured that even in our northwestern railroads, in response to the extraordinary development in its territory.

The feature of the money market was an easing-off of discount rates abroad and a decline in the foreign exchange rates in New York. Expectation that gold might be exported from New York passed away. How far these effects were the results of placing finance bills abroad by New York bankers was a matter of conjecture.

Demand for time loans and increased offerings of mercantile paper made higher rates in those departments of the money market. Ease in call money may be explained by the policy of the banks in adding to their resources in hand or subject to recall on demand. The showing of the June 14 comptroller's digest carried a warning to caution, with its percentage of surplus reserve at the lowest for the corresponding period for many years past, 1910 excepted.

The steel trade has commanded attention in the industrial world. Successive price advances were reported and prominent trade authorities united in pronouncing indications for permanent prosperity. United States Steel second quarter earnings equalled the highest in years. The second quarter's enlargement for appropriations for up-keeps was considered moderate in view of the forecast of activity, maintained in production. June net earnings of railroads showed improvement.

COTTON GOODS HIGHER. By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 4.—The cotton goods markets are reaching a higher level of prices and there is a steady broadening in the demand, as well as in the consumption. Staple prints are on a basis of 5 1-2 cents for standards in primary markets and distributors will lift prices to that level on August 12. Duck has strengthened until prices on wide constructions are as high as they have been in recent years. Tickings, denims and colored domestics generally are held high and are in demand for delivery in the latest months of the year. Staple ginghams are at value. Fruit of the loom which has been at value at 8 1-2 cents has been advanced to 8 5-8c and lower count bleached goods are strong.

Fall River sold 180,000 pieces of print cloth last week, and trading was limited by the restricted stocks. Fine fancy dress cottons for spring are being bought conservatively.

Jobbers have been doing a good trade this week in domestics and wash fabrics and in many other cotton lines. Knitted goods have been active and yarns are in a fair condition.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW. By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 4.—According to the American Iron and Steel Association's initial statement last week, the output of pig iron during the last half of 1912 was 14,072,274 tons. The steel companies in this period drew on the furnaces for the proportionately less iron than formerly, but the advisability of creating a strong foundation for the advance in prices of finished steel, products prompted larger pig iron purchases in the last sixty to ninety days. The United States Steel Corporation for several weeks has been continually in the market for small lots of Bessemer iron and with a moderate tonnage in speculative hands, prices advanced last week 25 cents per ton, with sales of 40,000 tons for Ohio delivery at $14 at furnaces. Basic, too, was held more firmly with the Pittsburgh Steel Company inquiring for about 5,000 tons and the Colonial Steel Company inquiring for about 5,000 tons. The American Steel foundries are understood to have closed for ten thousand tons at $13.50 valley, but furnaces are now asking 25 to 50 per cent a ton more. A St. Louis interest took 20,000 tons of Southern basic as well as ten thousand tons of foundry grades. The Westinghouse Air Brake Company purchased 22,000 tons of foundry grades for delivery extending through the first quarter of 1913 and the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company ten thousand tons of forge and foundry grades.

The eastern market continued dull. Large orders for steel plates and shapes for marine work were placed prior to the advance of $1 per ton that followed the advance of $1 per ton in steel and iron bars. A further rise in these products seems probable in the near future. The railroads are canvassing the rail situation for 1913; the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient bought fifteen thousand tons and orders for forty thousand tons for delivery this fall are pending.

The fabricating shops booked orders for 125,000 tons of structural steel in July, but since the first of August orders were confined to small lots of building and bridges, for which higher prices were obtained.

SCORES FLIPPANCY OF SOCIETY WOMEN.

Rev. Dr. Richmond of Philadelphia, Gives Fashionable Narragansett a Shock.

Special to The Morning News.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 3.—Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, D. D. of Philadelphia, today attacked the Astor-Roosevelt engagement and said Colonel Roosevelt is more like Christ would be, if on earth, than any other man in public life. He also said: "The modern society woman is really as flippant as Salome. She disregards ethics and gets much vexed when criticised. Many times a poor girl has married a rich man and then plunged headlong into society, believing that it was her duty to maintain her husband's station in life. Such a woman is really not a factor in giving moral influence."

"There is precious little moral masculinity of real Christianity in our university leadership today, especially in the east. The curse of the Episcopal church has always been her respectability. We are afraid to soil our hands with unclean problems of our industrial life. These problems strike our very doorsteps. About all that our churches did in that city was to lament existing conditions, to dole out bread and clothing and to denounce the I. W. W."

"The women of Newport who have decided to discontinue dancing after midnight Saturday are setting a good example to all of our so-called society set."

"Only the social riff-raff of our fashionable shore resorts will dance after midnight, thus trespassing on the Lord's day. Those who refuse to follow the example of such society women as Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish should be condemned by the church and by all those who desire to uphold the traditions of our American democracy. There is too much irreverence, indecency and godlessness among our social leaders at the American summer resorts."

WANT COMMERCIAL MUSEUM IN PARIS

AMERICANS HAVE PLAN TO ADVERTISE EXHIBITS OF THEIR COUNTRY ABROAD.

Special to The Morning News.

Paris, Aug. 4.—The suggestion to found an American commercial museum in Paris as a means of opening the foreign market to a larger class of American manufacturers has come from the American chamber of commerce here, George R. Ostheimer, a member of the board of directors, has sketched a plan for such an organization.

It is believed that such a museum would be especially beneficial to the small manufacturers, whose goods could thus be made known to the outside world to the best possible advantage and at the least possible expense. A museum in Paris, it is believed, would be especially valuable, because Paris is the great central assembling point for visitors to Europe, and the products of American manufacturers would be under the eyes of not only the business men of France, but all of Europe as well.

Attached to the French ministry of finance are officials who are little known to the world at large. They are the tobacco testers of the government and their business is to pass judgment on every kind of tobacco that is used throughout the country.

This body of men, which one newspaper calls "smoke board," consists of a chairman and five assistants, and from morning until night they do nothing but smoke cigars, cigarettes and pipes, so as to reach an estimate of the different types of tobacco placed before them.

The officials do not hesitate to admit that the pleasantest part of the day's work comes when it falls to their lot to test the high-priced Havana cigars sold by the state through the thousands of tobacco stores that exist throughout France. The employees who undertake this responsible duty are former inspectors of tobacco manufacturers, who have passed a certain number of years in the state service and have demonstrated their capability for this peculiar line of work.

The injurious influence of the tobacco they endeavor to combat by drinking great quantities of black coffee, which acts, it is said, as an antidote to the effects of the nicotine.

The question of morality, as it attaches itself to the public elementary school, is again arousing attention, together with the perennial subject of increased criminality. Certain provincial mayors have forbidden the exhibition of "bandit" films in their communes. Moving pictures, they say, which display the exploits of "apaches" are encouraging and propagating crime.

In some quarters this view is challenged with the declaration that one must go behind the picture palace to the elementary school for the source of the evil. It is there that morals are inculcated, and it is there that the character of the young receives its first impress.

Others again, attribute the growth of predatory crime to the growing materialism, to the ambition that permeates all classes, and to that "new spirit of extravagance which appears to be undermining the old prudence and thrift of the French."

In connection with the subject of elementary education a writer in the "Revue des Deux Mondes" makes a plea for the reorganization of the curricula of public schools in the country, and asks that the instruction given to future farmers and agricultural laborers shall accord more with their special requirements. Inculcate in them, he says, a love of the land; let them realize the sanity and utility of a country life of a life given to the raising of cattle and the cultivation of crops. Combat as much as possible the tendency to leave the land for the cities—a tendency which exists in France as elsewhere. Coupled with the dwindling population it provides a serious problem for the future well-being of agricultural districts in France.

State instruction as at present given in the public schools is liable, it is claimed, to make clerks and postmen and civil functionaries instead of ardent tillers of the soil. Why should not the schoolmaster instill into his pupils the idea that to plough a straight furrow is more useful to the community than is the ability to add up a row of figures or to manipulate red-tape in a government office?

CORN CROP GOOD. Special to The Morning News.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The crop reporting board of the United States department of agriculture today gave out its report regarding the condition of corn in Texas. The Lone Star state's crop is 84 per cent of normal as compared with 45 per cent on the same date last year. The farmers of that state have just completed harvesting a bumper crop and it is expected that the corn yield will be the largest in years.

Scatter good will as you journey through life. It will drive away the blues and make the other fellow feel happy.

The officials do not hesitate to admit that the pleasantest part of the day's work comes when it falls to their lot to test the high-priced Havana cigars sold by the state through the thousands of tobacco stores that exist throughout France. The employees who undertake this responsible duty are former inspectors of tobacco manufacturers, who have passed a certain number of years in the state service and have demonstrated their capability for this peculiar line of work.

The injurious influence of the tobacco they endeavor to combat by drinking great quantities of black coffee, which acts, it is said, as an antidote to the effects of the nicotine.

The question of morality, as it attaches itself to the public elementary school, is again arousing attention, together with the perennial subject of increased criminality. Certain provincial mayors have forbidden the exhibition of "bandit" films in their communes. Moving pictures, they say, which display the exploits of "apaches" are encouraging and propagating crime.

In some quarters this view is challenged with the declaration that one must go behind the picture palace to the elementary school for the source of the evil. It is there that morals are inculcated, and it is there that the character of the young receives its first impress.

Others again, attribute the growth of predatory crime to the growing materialism, to the ambition that permeates all classes, and to that "new spirit of extravagance which appears to be undermining the old prudence and thrift of the French."

In connection with the subject of elementary education a writer in the "Revue des Deux Mondes" makes a plea for the reorganization of the curricula of public schools in the country, and asks that the instruction given to future farmers and agricultural laborers shall accord more with their

FOUR-YEAR OLD LAD DEFIES THE POLICE

LOST BOY REFUSES TO GIVE UP
LOCKET, A MEANS OF HIS IDENTIFICATION.

He was just a little shaver—probably four years old—but he had the defiance of Napoleon and the stubbornness of a Texas mule. The officers asked to see a small gold locket, which he clasped in his hands, in an effort to establish his identity, but no—it was his locket, no one else should have it, and he fought them and made it plain that he did not want them meddling in his affairs.

The youngster was found strolling about at First and Webster streets Sunday morning. A man and his wife ran across the boy, and knowing he was lost, they took him to the Cotton Belt depot, where they turned him over to two policemen.

The officers knew that on the inside of the locket was some mark of the youngster's identification, but try as they might, they could not get it away from him. He did not know who he was or where he lived, but he clasped both hands around the locket and defied the officers to try to get it away from him.

Meanwhile there was great excitement among some of the women at the Fifth Street Methodist church.

The police were still trying to persuade the boy to open the locket when a hatless man rushed up and claimed him. He had just come from the Fifth Street church, and explained that he was only one of a dozen men that had scattered out in all directions in search of the runaway. The boy's mother was dead, his father was out of the city, and he was being cared for by some women. During the church service, the boy wandered off.

NIGHT CLERK AT POLICE STATION OFF ON VACATION

Edward Ullman, Promoted from Janitor, Tells Joke—With Department 13 Years.

Edward Ullman, who is rounding out his 13th year of continuous service with the police department, goes on his annual vacation today. For eight years he has been the night clerk.

Mr. Ullman bears the distinction of being one of the few men in this world ever promoted from janitorship to clerkship.

"For three years I had been janitor," he said last night. "When Chief Rollins had some office work that he wanted done, he called me in. I told him I could do it, and he put me to work at it. Well, it must have pleased him, for he soon promoted me to the regular position of night clerk."

"In the Back of His Watch"

By Nell Brinkley

Do you know that man (bless his heart) who, the second time you've met him at dinner, rigs from his watch pocket or his breast, with a face alight, a little picture of a woman and a baby or two and says, "There they are! It isn't a good picture of them. I've a better one at home!"?

From Reisel the long distance telephone operator reported that the car belonged in Mart. The central operator in Mart reported that news of an accident had not been received there. It was reported by the Waco automobilists that one man riding in the damaged car was said to have been seriously injured. PEACH QUOTATIONS DROP TO LOW FIGURE IN WACO

EAST TEXAS ORCHARDS FLOOD
SOUTH AND NORTH—THREE BASKETS 25 CENTS.

Peaches reached the low level of the year in Waco Saturday, when the best varieties of the Elberta retailed at ten cents per basket or three for a quarter. The market is well flooded with this fruit, and the price is liable to drop a few cents lower within the next two weeks.

Meanwhile, the East Texas peach belt continues to flood all the markets of the southwest and north. Dozens of carloads of peaches leave the state daily, but the railroads are experiencing no shortage of refrigerator cars and are handling the crop with ease. The Waco market is expected to open up Monday at the closing figures of Saturday—three baskets for a quarter.

BACK TO THE SOIL
NOW CRY IN TEXAS

Now that the election is over, many politicians, drawn by the suction of necessity, will go "back to the soil," and the old vagaries for which they stood will return like sheeted ghosts to their graves but political fallacies, like weeds, when cut down, grow up again. Intelligence is the only safeguard to free government, and if our politicians would only pursue knowledge as energetically the next few years as they have pursued one another the past few weeks, we would soon have the greatest civilization the world has ever known.

But the people should not take the spell-binders too seriously; remove from these generators of public strife the hope of reward and their torrid eloquence will cease to flow and they will become productive, rather than obstructive, citizens. Back to the soil with the politicians, and give Texas a chance to grow.

Old Cannon Guarding City Hall Falls From Dilapidated Carriage

The old cannon at the city square is down and on the ground. The other day, without any visible cause, one of the big wheels, rotten with age, tumbled over and the big gun is now resting on the ground. The city is to give it a new mounting before long.

The pride of the army during the civil war, the big gun now looks just as burly and powerful as it ever did. Its new mounting will be precisely like the original. The city commissioners have already asked for bids for this work.

CONGREGATION HEARS PREACHER SANS COAT

THE REV. H. D. KNICKERBOCKER
SCORES MEN'S MODESTY FOR SWELTERING.

Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the Austin street Methodist church, again took up the cudgel in defense of the coatless army of Waco in his Sunday morning sermon. He signified his earnestness by preaching in his coat sleeves, and he explained that during the past week he had gone calling on the women members of his congregation without his coat.

He pleaded with the male members of his audience to shed their coats, and scored their modesty for not coming to church in their shirt sleeves. At the night service, Rev. Knickerbocker gave another lecture on his world travels. He took London for a subject.
